Let me now consider about the quantum of bonus. I have already referred to the Company's chart showing annual wages of Rs. 76.91 lakhs or monthly wages of 6.40 lakhs of rupees. The note in that chart is to the effect that the annual wages shown therein excludes wages of 10 per cent. absentee workers. So it is said for the Company that the monthly wages would amount to about 7.00 lakhs of rupees. But all the workers will not get full amount of bonus. Hence the average monthly wages would come up to be approximately 6.40 lakhs of rupees. In consideration of these things, and having regard to the amount of available surplus as found above, the workers may be given Profit Bonus of six months' wages as claimed by the Unions. But, in this connection, I take into account the fact that the Company had contributed 10.74 lakhs of rupees towards the Employees' Provident Funds. In my judgment, five and half months' wages as bonus for the relevant year 1958-59 should be allowed to meet the ends of justice. This will be quite compatible with the progressive prosperity of the Company with reference to increased net profits and increased dividends already discussed. Even if full bonus is considered, the total amount would be Rs. 6.40×5½, i.e., Rs. 35.20 lakhs. The Company shall have in its hand Rs. 53.31 lakhs minus Rs. 35.20 lakhs, i.e., Rs. 18.11 lakhs, together with Income-tax rebate to the extent of Rs. 15.84 lakhs—in all Rs. 33.65 lakhs. This is quite sufficient.

In the result, I allow bonus to the extent of five and half months' wages. The workers who worked for 120 days or more shall get full amount of bonus allowed hereby; those who worked for 60 to 119 days shall get half the amount; those who worked for 30 to 59 days shall get one-fourth of the amount; and no bonus shall be payable to those who worked for less than 30 days in the year in question. The amounts of wages already paid in advance towards bonus shall be set off against the bonus allowed as above. The balance shall be paid by the Company to the workers within one month of the date of commencement of the operation of this award.

Award is passd accordingly.

PART VI.—Bills introduced in Parliament of India Reports of Select Committees presented t Parliament; and Bills published before introduction in Parliament.

RAJYA SABHA

The following Bill was introduced in the Rajya Sabha on the 18th August, 1961 and is hereby published for general information:-

BILL No. XIX OF 1961

(Bill to amend the Young Persons (Harmful Publications) Act, 1956.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Twelfth Year of the Republic of India as follows:

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Young Persons (Harmful Publications) Amendment Act, 1961.

Amendment of section 2.

2. In section 2 of the Young Persons (Harmful Publications) Act, 1956, for clause (c), the following clause shall be substituted, namely, 93 of 1956.

'(c) "harmful publication" means any book, magazine, pamphlet, leaflet, newspaper or other like publication which consists of articles, poems, questions and answers (by whatsoever name they may be called), either illustrated wholly or in part or not containing any illustration, or stories told with the aid of pictures or without the aid of pictures or wholly in pictures, being articles, poems, questions and answers or stories, as the case may be describing or portraying, wholly or mainly--

(i) the commission of offences; or

(ii) acts of violence or cruelty; or

(iii) incidents of an obscene, repulsive or horrible nature, or

(iv) any matter relating to the private lives of cinema stars;

in such a way that the publication as a whole would tend to corrupt a young person into whose hands it might fall, whether by inciting or encouraging him to commit offences or acts of violence or cruelty or depravity or immorality or in any other manner whatsoever;".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The so-called cinema magazines exert a great deal of bad influence on the immature minds of young persons and tend to corrupt their morals. A check in such publications is very essential and hence this Bill.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Dumchipara Tea Estate, P.O. Ramjhora, Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by the Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P.O. Kalchini, Jalpaiguri. (Case No. VIII-542/60.)

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri P. K. Ghosh, Advocate, with Shri D. Basu Thakur, Solicitor of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate, with Shri A. Das Chowdhury.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the Schedule to the order of reference and reproduced below was first referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4671-I.R./IR/9L-11/58, dated the 8th November 1958, and the same dispute was subsequently referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5024-I.R./IR/9L-5/60, dated 23rd September 1960, in supersession of the said previous order of reference after the abolition of the said Court.

The only issue referred for adjudication stands thus:

Issue

1. Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified. To what relief are they entitled?

(i) Shri Kancha II of Padma Singh Sirdar.

(ii) Shri Naya Kancha of Saila Rai Sirdar.

(iii) Shri Kancha Rai.

(iv) Shri Jetha Lama.

It is common case of both parties that the four workers named in the issue under reference were dismissed in connection with an occurrence which took place in the Garden on 4th June 1958 from about 5 p.m. The Union's case in brief is that on that date, which was the monthly pay day of the workers, the Company was illegally and unjustly deducting Rs. 4 from the pay of each worker at the time of disbursement of pay and the workers objected to such deduction, particularly because they were not told why such deduction was being made and they refused to accept the pay after such deduction and they raised a united demand for stopping such deduction from pay and for such action only on the part of the workers, the concerned workers of this case and some other workers were served with charge-sheets which were followed by some enquiries held by the Manager of the Garden, but the enquiries were not legally and properly held according to the principles of natural justice and after such enquiries, the concerned workers of this case were dismissed from their service in the Garden. This dismissal of the concerned workers has been challenged as absolutely illegal, unfair, unjustified and nothing but an act of victimisation on the part of the Company against the workers, because these workers were members of the Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, which was not recognised by the Company, and these workers were active members of the Union. The above is in a nutshell the Union's case on the merits of the dismissal of the concerned workers. Apart from this case on the merits, the concerned Union has also raised a legal objection to the effect that the dismissal of all these workers was absolutely illegal because it was made during the pendency of a conciliation proceeding over a charter of demands submitted by the Union to the Manager of the Tea Estate on 13th June 1958, without complying with the provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act.

The Company's case on the merits of the dismissal of these workers is briefly that there was no deduction from the pay of any worker by the Company on 4th June 1958, as alleged by the Union, but sometime after the payment had started in the office of the Company, these concerned workers took a leading part in raising an agitation over the demand that the carrying charges for two peels of firewood, which was being supplied by the Company to each household per year on the workers' paying the said carrying charges to the carrying contractor, must be paid by the Company itself and in course of the agitation, several hundreds of workers surrounded the Manager's office and kept him confined there and also indulged in uttering threatening and abusive language to the Manager and other supervisory staff of the Garden and the situation became so serious that the Manager had to inform the police and the police came to the Garden but in spite of this, the workers did not disperse and the Manager and h assistants remained confined till late in the night. is further the Company's case that these concern workers took a leading part in the aforesaid agitati and resorted to riotous and disorderly condu which was subversive of discipline. It is also t Company's case that these four workers along wi others were charge-sheeted for their riotous a disorderly conduct in the occurrence which took pla on 4th June 1958 in the Garden and the Manag himself held enquiries regarding the charges agair these workers and the enquiries were quite fair a in accordance with the principles of natural justi and as a result of these enquiries, the Manager w satisfied about their riotous and disorderly condu in the occurrence of 4th June 1958 and consequent dismissed them from service under section 13(c)(vi of the Standing Orders governing this Tea Esta On the aforesaid allegations, the Company conten that the dismissal of these workers was perfect justified. The Company has also denied the Unior case that the dismissal of the workers took pla during the pendency of any conciliation proceedin

I will first take up the legal objection raised l the Union to the effect that the dismissal of the work rs was, apart from the merits of the ca absolutely illegal because it was made during t pendency of a conciliation proceeding witho complying with the provisions of section 33 of t Industrial Disputes Act. It is first to be decid whether the dismissal of these workers took pl during the pendency of any conciliation proceedin as alleged by the Union. It appears from t evidence on the record that after the occurrence 4th June 1958 the Company issued charge-sheets these workers on 9th June 1958 (vide Exts. 2 2(c)], and then enquiries were held on 14th Ju 1958, 16th June 1958 and 18th June 1958 (vi Ext. 3), the Manager recorded his findings holdi all these four workers guilty of the charges on 19t June 1958 (vide Exts. 4 series) and on the same da (19th June 1958) dismissal notices were issued b registered post to these four workers and amon them the workers Kancha II and Naya Kanch accepted the dismissal notices on 25th June 195 and 26th June 1958 [vide returned posta acknowledgments, Exts. 6(b) and 6(a)], but the othe two workers did not accept their notices which wer returned as "refused", the final endorsements to tha effect being made on 24th June 1958, and thereafte the dismissal notice was published in the notic board of the Garden on 27th June 1958. According to the dismissal notices, each dismissal was to take effect from the date of receipt of the notice. So, the dismissals of Kancha II and Naya Kancha are to be deemed to have become effective from 25th June 1958 and 26th June 1958, respectively. The dismissals of the other two workers are to be deemed to have taken effect from 24th June 1958 at the earliest. We also find from the evidence that on 13th June 1958 the Union issued a strike notice, to the Manager of this Tea Estate with a charter of demands intimating that the strike would be launched if the demands set forth in the charter were not met within 14 days from the receipt of the notice [vide Exts. 13 and 13(a)]. It further appears from Ext. 12, the letter addressed by the local Assistant Labour Commissioner, to whom a copy of the strike notice with the charter of demands was forwarded according to Ext. 13, to the Secretary of the concerned Union that the Assistant Labour Commissioner received the strike notice with the charter demands on or before 16th June 1958. It then ›ears from Ext. C, the letter of the Assistant bour Commissioner, dated 25th June 1958, to the ınager of this Tea Estate that the Assistant bour Commissioner fixed 2nd July 1958 for the nt conference over the charter of demands. This licates that the Assistant Labour Commissioner ok up the dispute arising out of the Union's arter of demands for conciliation. It now becomes cessary to decide when exactly the conciliation ceeding in the present case may be said to have mmenced. On behalf of the Union, reference has en made to section 20(1), Industrial Disputes Act, nd it has been argued that the conciliation proceeding all be deemed to have commenced from the ceipt of the notice of strike with the charter of emands by the Assistant Labour Commissioner. his section specifically refers to a notice of strike r lock-out under section 22, Industrial Disputes Act. Section 22 applies only to a strike or lock-out n a public utility service. In the present case, we are not concerned with any public utility service. So, the service of the notice of strike with the charter of demands in the present case cannot be taken to be the date of commencement of the conciliation proceeding. In my view, the conciliation proceeding in the present case is to be deemed to ve commenced on 25th June 1958 when the ssistant Labour Commissioner issued the letter, xt. C, calling for a joint conference for conciliation. am unable to accept the contention raised on ehalf of the Company that the conciliation roceeding cannot be deemed to have commenced in ne present case before the date of the receipt of ne letter, Ext. C, by the Company and there being o evidence to prove that this letter reached the Company before 27th June 1958, it cannot be said hat the conciliation proceeding commenced before hat date and as all the dismissals in the present case took place on or before 27th June 1958, none of them can be said to have been made during the pendency of any conciliation proceeding. The conciliation roceeding must, in my view, be deemed to have mmenced in the present case from the date on hich the Conciliation Officer actually took up the spute arising out of the charter of demands for nciliation and issued notices to the parties and that ate was certainly 25th June 1958. I have already idicated above that four dismissal notices to the ur concerned workers of this case were issued on 9th June 1958 and two of them were received by ne concerned workers, Kancha II and Naya Kancha, n 25th June 1958 and 26th June 1958, but the other wo were returned as "refused" by the other two oncerned workers on 24th June 1958. According o the general principles of law, the notices which were returned as "refused" on 24th June 1958 must be deemed to have been duly served upon them on that date. According to the dismissal notices, the dismissals were to be effective from the date of the receipt of the notices. So, in the present case, the dismissals of Kancha II and Naya Kancha became effective on 25th June 1958 and 26th June 1958 respectively and the dismissals of the other two workers, Kancha Rai and Jetha Lama, became ffective from 24th June 1958, on which date they efused to accept the notices of dismissals. The lismissals which became effective on or before 25th June 1958 must be deemed to have been effected fter the commencement of the conciliation proceeding according to my view indicated above. So, excepting Kancha Rai and Jetha Lama, whose dismissals became effective on 24th June 1958, the date on which they refused to accept the registered letters, the dismissals of the other workers became effective on or after 25th June 1958, and hence after the commencement of the conciliation proceeding. I should here state that no doubt it is in evidence that the dismissal notices which were returned as "refused" were subsequently affixed on the notice board on or about 27th June 1958, but this does not detract from the legal position that the original dismissal notices issued by registered post became effective from the receipt of the notices by the concerned workers and the notices must be held to have ben received by Kancha II and Naya Kancha on 25th June 1958 and 26th June 1958 respectively and by the other two workers on 24th June 1958 on which date they finally refused to accept the registered letters according to the postman's endorsements in the letter covers [Exts. 7 and 7(a)]. Thus, the position arises that the dismissals of Kancha Rai and Jetha Lama took place and became effective before the commencement of the conciliation proceeding in the present case on 25th June 1958, but the dismissals of the other two workers, Kancha Rai and Naya Kancha, became effective after the commencement of the conciliation proceeding on 25th June 1958. It is an undisputed position that the Company did not comply with the mandatory provisions of section 33(2)(b), which appropriately applies in the present case in respect of the two workers, Kancha Rai and Naya Kancha, whose dismissals must be deemed to have been effected after the commencement of the conciliation proceeding on 25th June 1958. Accordingly, the dismissals of these workers cannot but be held to be illegal, being in contravention of the provisions of section 33(2)(b). In the above view of the whole matter, I hold that the legal objection raised by the Union must be upheld in respect of the two workers, Kancha Rai and Naya Kancha, and it must be held in their case that as their dismissals became effective after the commencement of the conciliation proceeding on 25th June 1958 but the Company did not comply with the provisions of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, in respect of them, these were illegal, but the dismissals of the other two workers, Kancha Rai and Jetha Lama, which took place before the commencement of the conciliation proceeding on 25th June 1958 were not illegal in that way. At the same time, I am also of the view that even if the dismissals of Kancha II and Naya Kancha were illegal, being in contravention of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, this Tribunal has got the jurisdiction to decide whether in fact these dismissals were justified on merits when the matter has come up before this Tribunal by way of reference under section 10, Industrial Disputes Act This principle is deducible from the case of the Punjab National Bank Ltd. versus All-India Punjab National Bank Employees' Federation and another, (A.I.R. 1960 SC page 160). The legal objection raised by the Company is disposed of as above.

I now come to the merits of the dismissals. Admittedly, these four workers were charge-sheeted for disorderly conduct consisting of wrongfully confining the Manager and some subordinate staff in the office of the Garden in connection with the occurrence which took place on 4th June 1958 in the Garden when pay was being distributed to the workers. It is also an undisputed position that the Manager himself held enquiries regarding the charges in the office in presence of the three concerned workers, Kancha Rai, Kancha Dusara and Jetha Lama, but the remaining concerned worker, Naya Kancha, did not appear at the enquiry concerning him. Exhibit 2 series are the charge-sheets. Receipt of this charge-sheets has not been denied. It appears that no written reply was submitted to the charge-sheets by any of the four concerned workers. Ext. 3 comprises the recorded proceedings of the enquiry held by the Manager himself. The proceedings were recorded by one of his Assistant Managers, Shri Bakshi, and were held in presence of two independent witnesses, Mikhu Singh, Head Fitter of the Garden, who is conversant with several languages, Hindi, English, Bengali and Nepali, and one Shri Karmakar, the Head Clerk of the Garden. The recorded proceedings show that there were quite thorough, fair and proper enquiries regarding the charges against the concerned workers by the Manager. The Manager himself has given evidence. His evidence was recorded on commission, because he was leaving this country. The two Assistant Managers, Shri Dhawan and Shri Bakshi, have also given evidence. Shri Bakshi recorded the proceedings. Shri Mikhu Singh, who attended the proceedings and explained the questions put by the Manager in English into the appropriate language to the concerned workers, has also given evidence. After considering the evidence of the Manager, the Assistant Manager Shri Bakshi (O.P.W. 5) and Mikhu Singh (O.P.W. 2) on the Company's side, regarding the enquiries and giving careful consideration to the evidence of the two concerned workers who have given evidence in the present proceedings, P.W. 2 Kancha Rai and P.W. 3 Jetha Lama, both of whom have admitted their presence in the enquiries, and after carefully scrutinising the enquiry proceedings (Ext. 3), I am fully satisfied that the domestic enquiries held in respect of the concerned workers upon the charge-sheets of Ext. 2 series, which were issued in connection with the occurrence of 4th June 1958, were quite thorough, fair and proper and were also in consonance with all principles of natural justice and there was nothing in the enquiries which in any way handicapped or prejudiced the concerned workers in the matter of presenting their case or supporting their own conduct in regard to the occurrence of 4th June 1958. I am further satisfied that they had every freedom and opportunity to put forward their own defence and evidence but they did not choose to examine any witness. The only criticisms made in respect of the enquiries in course of the arguments advanced on behalf of the Union were that the Manager who was himself the aggrieved party and the complainant held the enquiries and thus made himself "judge in his own cause", that in some cases leading questions were put to the witne ses and that in a general way, the proceedings were not correctly recorded. No doubt the general legal principle is that no man should be a judge in his own cause but this general principle cannot have the fullest application in the case of a domestic enquiry in an industrial matter where the Management has been given the right to hold the enquiry when there is charge-sheet against some workers. The very name "domestic enquiry" means and implies enquiry held privately by the Management. Moreover, there would not have been any substantial change in the position if the enquiry was held by any officer subordinate to the Manager, because in that case too it would have been an enquiry by a person who is absolutely under control of the Manager. Furthermore, the Stan Orders governing the Garden provides in section 1 in effect that the Manager is to play practically leading role in the matter of an enquiry against worker for any alleged misconduct [Ext. A(1)] therefore, reject the criticism that the enquiry against the principles of natural justice becaus was held by the Manager himself. So far as the criticism is concerned, I am of the view th domestic managerial enquiry in an industrial un taking is not by any means a strictly proceeding and it is not to conform to principles of taking evidence in all their strict and so it is not vitiated because some lea questions are put. It is to be seen whether managerial enquiry competent witnesses likely have knowledge about the occurrence were exami and their statements sufficiently supported occurrence as alleged by the Company. In present case, both these requirements substantially fulfilled. There is absolutely substance in the third criticism. I am unable accept the vague and interested testimonies of two workers who have given their evidence in respect. I see no reason to disbelieve the evide of the Manager, the Assistant Manager, Shri Bak and Mikhu Singh, who explained the proceedings the workers and it may be safely held from evidence that the proceedings were corre recorded. Thus, upon the evidence produced at trial, I hold that the managerial enquiries in present case were held fairly and properly and principle of natural justice was violated in hold the enquiries. Now I come to the findings. Ex series are the recorded findings of the Manager am clearly of the view that the findings which against the workers and held them guilty of charges were such as could reasonably be made u the evidence produced at the enquiry. There no basic error, nor any perversity in the findings it is not a case where the findings had no evide to stand upon. According to the findings, worker was guilty of the charges levelled aga him and the charges constituted misconduct un clause 13(c)(viii) of the Standing Orders. attention has been drawn to the fact that the cha of using threatening or abusive language is not th in any of the charge-sheets but the only change each charge-sheet is taking part in disorderly incid during which the Manager and other were wrongfu confined, but in the findings each worker was held guilty of using threatening and abusi language. It is clearly recorded in each finding t the concerned worker took a leading part in incident of 4th June 1958, the incident 4th June 1958 according to the eviden consisted of both confining the Manager and so of his subordinates and using threatening and abusi language towards them. In my view, there is such material discrepancy between the charge-she and the findings as to lead to the position that workers were found guilty of offences with whi they were not charged. Mention of the incident dated 4th June 1958, in my view, generally cove everything that took place in course of t occurrence and if it was found in course of t enquiry that the occurrence consisted of wrongf confinement of the Manager and his staff and al use of threatening and abusive language towar them, the enquiring officer was quite free a mpetent to make a finding that the workers also ed abusive and threatening language. According to findings the workers were certainly guilty of gross sconduct falling under section 13(c)(viii) of the anding Orders which justified the dismissal. My tention has also been drawn to the fact that in the ge-sheets the particular section of the Standing ders under which the offences charged fell were t mentioned. No doubt this contention is true t this will not affect the validity of the charge-eets or the findings because the facts underlying e charges were clearly recited in the charges and e facts, if proved, clearly constituted offences under ction 13(c)(viii) of the Standing Orders. It appears at even after the enquiries the workers were given e right of representation under section 13(g) of e Standing Orders before the final order for punish-ent was passed and they were represented by hri Basterwitch, Secretary of the concerned Union. his shows that the Company acted quite fairly and a bona fide manner and gave a hearing to the orkers' representative before passing the final order or punishment. In the above view of the entire vidence and circumstances bearing on the charge-heets and the enquiries and the findings of the nquiries, I have no hesitation to hold that the orkers were properly found guilty of offences under ection 13(c)(viii) of the Standing Orders which justi-ied their dismissals and they were properly dismissed n the basis of the findings. After this decision, this ribunal has hardly any jurisdiction to interfere with e dismissals on its own view of the evidence and rcumstances of the case in so far as they relate to e occurrence of 4th June 1958, which was the basis the charges against the workers, even if such view ffers from the view taken by the enquiring officer. therefore, hold that the workers were quite justi-ably dismissed after proper enquiries and on the asis of proper findings and the enquiries were held ubstantially in consonance with the principles of atural justice and the findings were prima facie justi-ed by the evidence produced at the enquiries and not basically perverse. There was certainly no nisation of the workers simply because they nged to this particular Union which was not gnised by the Company. My attention has been n in this connection to the fact that one Shri ode, who belonged to another Union recognised the Company, also took a leading part in the urrence of 4th June 1958 and was also convicted he criminal court in connection with that occur-ce, but he is still serving in the Garden. No doubt is a fact according to the evidence. But this alone cannot at once justify the finding that Company acted mala fide and in a spirit of victi-ction against this worker. When the charges inst the workers were found to have been proved the enquiries, the Management in exercise of its erent right of directing its internal administration d certainly the right to take such disciplinary action was justified under the circumstances against them d such action must be held to be justified even if is found that in another case it showed some ency towards another worker. In fact, relying on the solitary case of Shri Narode, I am unable hold that the action of the Company against these orkers amounted to discrimination and victimisation.

Even apart from the dismissals of the concerned orkers being justified by the enquiries and the ndings made by the enquiring officer, I am also tisfied upon an independent examination of the evidence regarding the part that they took in the occurrence of 4th June 1958 that they were guilty of gross misconduct in that they indulged in disorderly behaviour by kicking up a row over a new demand that the Company should bear the carrying charges for firewood supplied to the workers free of cost by the Company according to previous arrangements. The evidence is that since 1956, the Company has been supplying firewood at the rate of two peels per household to the workers free of cost, subject to their paying carrying charges at Rs. 2 per peel to the carrying contractor, and though some attempts were made previously to induce the Company to bear the carrying charges as well, the Company did not accept the workers' demand in this behalf and in this background, the workers raised the demand that the Company must pay the carrying charges of firewood on 4th June 1958 at the time of distribution of pay. According to the Union, the workers refused to take their pay on that day because Rs. 4 was being deducted from the pay of each worker by the Company, whereas according to the Company no such deduction was being made by the Company from the pay of any worker, but the workers insisted that the Company must bear the carrying charges of firewood. After considering the facts stated in the written statement of the Company on this point and also the evidence of the Manager and other witnesses for the Company, and also the evidence produced on behalf of the Union and the workers, I am satisfied that when the pay was being distributed by the Assistant Managers with the help of their clerks through the Sirdars to their respective separate groups of workers, there might have been some deductions by some Sirdars on account of payment of carrying charges for firewood, but the Company itself was not a party to such deduction and the Company never authorised such deduction and when a row was raised over some such deductions coupled with the demand for the Company's bearing the carrying charges, the Management took a favourable view in regard to the Sirdars' deductions, but that did not satisfy the workers, whose main and basic demand was that the Company must agree to bear the carrying charges for firewood but the Company was not in a position to agree to this demand and this was really the root of the whole trouble and the workers numbering several hundreds went rowdy over the demand. I am further satisfied from the evidence on the record, particularly the evidence given by the Assistant Managers, Shri Dhawan and Shri Bakshi, and Shri Hirendra Bakshi, a clerk who was assisting the Assistant Manager Shri Bakshi in the distribution of pay, and Saila Khali and Akal Singh Rai, two Sirdars who were present at the time of distribution of pay, that the main and basic demand of the workers was that the Company must bear the carrying charges for firewood by at once changing the system that was in vogue for the last few years and the four concerned workers of this case took a leading part in inciting the other workers to desist from taking their pay and it was their incitement which ultimately resulted in hundreds of workers staging a rowdy demonstration before the Manager's office resulting in confining the Manager and some of his staff in the office and in course of this occurrence, threatending and abusive language was also used against the Manager and other staff. The conduct of the four concerned workers, as proved by the evidence of the Company's witnesses, was certainly subversive of discipline and amounted to disorderly behaviour. After considering the evidence and the surrounding circumstances as a whole, I am fully satisfied that on that day the Company did not do any such act as could be a sufficient reason for staging such a rowdy demonstration by the workers who were led amongst others, by the four concerned workers of this case. I find, therefore, that it has been satisfactorily proved by evidence produced before this Tribunal that these four workers took a leading part in staging the demonstration in the Garden on 4th June 1958, which amounted to disorderly behaviour and was subversive of discipline and such conduct amounted to an offence under section 13(c)(viii) of the Standing Orders, for which they could be justifiably dismissed in the interest of discipline in the Garden and so their dismissal was fully justified. I think that even if the workers nursed a grievance over their paying the carrying charges for firewood otherwise supplied free by the Management of the Garden and wanted a revision of the existing system which was working admittedly since 1956, they could have taken recourse to the bona fide and peaceful means of submitting their grievance to the Management through their Union, and if the Management refused to accept their demand, then submitting their demand to the Conciliation Officer and finally asking for an adjudication over the matter according to law, but they had certainly no right to create a disorderly scene by indisciplined behaviour within the Garden on a pay day of such nature and magnitude as proved by the evidence on the Company's side. Admittedly, the local police had to be summoned and some workers were convicted in the criminal case started by the Company over the occurrence and among them was one of the concerned workers, Kancha Rai. Their action practically amounted to an attempt to coerce the Management to submit to their demand for the Company's bearing the carrying charges for firewood. Thus, the dismissals of the concerned workers are also justifiable on merits according to the evidence independently produced before this Tribunal.

On the decisions and for the reasons recorded above, I hold that the dismissals of all the four concerned workers were justified and they are not entitled to any relief. I award accordingly.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue of terminati of services of 22 workmen named in the list atta ed to the order of reference was first referred adjudication to the First Labour Court by the G ernment of West Bengal, Labour Department ord No. 4848-I.R./IR/7L-26/59, dated 30th Septemb 1959, and the same dispute was subsequently refe ed for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Gover ment of West Bengal, Labour Department ord No. 4680-I.R./IR/7L-29/60, dated 3rd Septemb 1960, in supersession of the said previous order reference after the abolition of the said Court

Out of the total number of 22 workmen covere by the issue under reference, all except two, viz No. 3, Shri Phunian and No. 18 Shri Ramanan Pandey, amicably settled their disputes with th Company and a joint petition of compromis embodying the terms of settlement and containing prayer for a compromise award on the basis of th said petition in respect of the said workmen wa filed before this Tribunal on 12th June 1961 and a interim compromise award in respect of the workers on the basis of the said joint petition passed by this Tribunal on 19th August 1961. A the said interim award, we are now left with cases of the two non-compromising workers, N Shri Phunian and No. 18 Shri Ramanand Pan for adjudication on merits. I now proceed to a dicate the surviving dispute between the Comp and the said two workmen on merits.

I. The case of Shri Phunian:

The Union's case in respect of this worker, given in the written statement, is that he assaulted by the Line Sardar severely and he one of his teeth by a blow of the said Sardar was retrenched verbally on 6th March 1959. Company's case in respect of this worker, as gi in its written statement is, on the other hand, follows: He was a Sweeper. He was charge-sheet for quarrelling with the Line Sardar and assaulti him in the department on 6th February 1959. refused to accept the charge-sheet tendered to hi

On 18th February 1959 a Pleader's letter written on his behalf was received by the Company and in this letter, he claimed some benefits for alleged termination of his employment. On 25th February 1959 the Company replied to the letter referring to the assault committed by this workman upon the Line Sardar and the charge-sheet given to him for such misconduct. Thereafter, no further letter was received from the Pleader. The Company then issued a letter, dated 6th March 1959, to this workman stating therein the fact of the previous charge-sheet and re-producing the charges contained therein and asking him to be present at an enquiry regarding the charges against him on 14th March 1959 at 2 p.m. at the place and time where the enquiry was to be held. The original charge-sheet as well as this letter was sent to him by registered post at his recorded address with the Company, but both were returned undelivered. The charge-sheet and this letter were also published on the notice board of the Company. According to the terms of the letter, dated 6th March 1959, an enquiry was held by the Company regarding the charges against this workman. But this workman did not appear at the enquiry. The Management carefully considered the charges against him and the enquiry report and being fully satisfied that he was guilty of the charges, dismissed him by a letter, dated 21st March 1959. Thus, the Company's whole contention is that this workman was dismissed for gross misconduct after proper enquiry.

On the side of the Union and this concerned workman, there is only the evidence of the concerned worker, Shri Phunian in support of his case that he was summarily dismissed after being assaulted by the Line Sardar. In his evidence, he has stated that the Line Sardar assaulted him, because he refused to do sweeping work in his house leaving his duty in the Mills. But, this reason is not to be found in the written statement of the Union. The Company has produced copies of the charge-sheet (Ext A), the Pleader's letter, dated 18th Februarv 1959, written to the Company on behalf of this worker (Ext. B), the Company's reply to this letter (Ext C), which was sent by registered post under the registration receipt [Ext. C(1)], and the Company's letter, dated 6th March 1959, wherein the act of his assaulting the Line Sardar and issue of a charge-sheet to him for such conduct and his refusal to accept the same on tender and subsequent sending of the charge-sheet to him by registered post were referred to and thereafter he was again directed to explain and justify his conduct in the matter of assaulting the Line Sardar and to appear at an enquiry to be held in the office of the Company on 14th March 1959 at 2 p.m. in order to defend himself by producing all sorts of evidence, documentary or otherwise, and was also warned that in default of his compliance with the above directions, the enquiry would be completed and decision would be arrived at (Ext. D), which was sent by registered post under the registration receipt [Ext D(1)]. The Company has also produced the original proceedings of the enquiry held by Shri T. Bhattacharjee, its Labour Officer as Chairman, and two other persons as Members on 14th March 1959 according to the terms of the letter, Ext. D, in regard to the charges against this concerned workman. The enquiry proceedings also contain the findings of the enquiry committee to the effect that this concerned workman was really guilty of assaulting the Line Sardar and the recommendation of the Committee to the effect that as he was guilty of misconduct, he should be dismissed from service. O.P.W. 1 Shri Kanailal Dutta, a Clerk in the office of the Company, has proved all the aforesaid documents. He has further stated that he has personal knowledge about the charge-sheet to Phunian and his refusal to accept it when tendered. I see no reason to disbelieve his oral evidence. Though the enquiring officer, Shri T. Bhattacharjee, or any of the members of the enquiry committee, has not been examined to prove the enquiry proceedings, Ext. E, I am fully satisfied as to the genuineness and bona fides of these documents from the evidence of O.P.W. 1, the Company's employee. I also accept the other documents produced by the Company as quite genuine and bona fide. I am unable to hold that the Company has forged and fabricated so many documents simply for the purpose of putting up a false case. In any case, the Pleader's letter, dated 18th February 1959, written on behalf of this concerned workman (Ext. B) and the Company's reply thereto (Ext. C) and the subsequent letter of the Company, dated 6th March 1959, wherein previous facts were referred to and the charges against the workman were reiterated and he was asked to show cause and was informed about the date, time and place of the enquiry to be held by the Company (Ext. D) cannot come under any shadow of doubt or suspicion and these documents considered together clearly support the enquiry proceedings (Ext. E). It may be said to be quite natural that the Company really held an enquiry in terms of the letter, dated 6th March 1959, on 14th March 1959, the date of enquiry given in the letter. The enquiry proceedings (Ext. E) show that the enquiry was held on 14th March 1959. I am satisfied after perusing the enquiry proceedings in the light of the other facts revealed by the other exhibits A to D, and testified to by O.P.W. 1 Shri Kanailal Dutta, that there was a very thorough and fair enquiry regarding the charges against this concerned worker in a bona fide manner and in accordance with the principles of natural justice and he was rightly held guilty of the charges which included the gross misconduct of assaulting the Line Sardar, his superior employee in the line, without any justifiable reason. I am further satisfied that such misconduct on his part fully justified his dismissal. His dismissal was, therefore, quite bona fide and justified and it was in no way an instance of mala fide victimisation of the concerned workman or an unfair labour practice. On the above findings, I hold that the dismissal of this workman, Shri Phunian, was fully justified, and so, he is not entitled to any relief. I award accordingly in his case.

II The case of Shri Ramanand Pandey:

The Union's case in respect of this worker, as given in the written statement, is as follows: He was a Darwan of the Mills and was on sick leave up to 3rd July 1958. After the expiry of the leave when he went to resume work on 4th July 1959, the Management refused to allow him to join his duty and he was verbally discharged. On the other hand, the Company's case in respect of this worker as given in the written statement, is as follows: This workman did not report for duty immediately after the expiry of his leave up to 3rd July 1959, but he remained absent in an unauthorised manner without giving any intimation to the Management for more than 10 days after 3rd July 1959 and so, his name was struck off at the end of March 1959. From the above cases of the contending parties in regard to this workman, the precise point for decision comes to be whether he deliberately over-stayed his leave which extended up to 3rd July 1959 in an unauthorised manner. It appears from the evidence of this concerned workman (P.W. 1) that after expiry of his first leave, he was not in good health and then he again took leave and when he became fit for work, he took certificate from a panel doctor and came to rejoin his work with that certificate, but he was not allowed to join his duty. So, according to his evidence, he was on sick leave in extension of his original leave and then he actually got a fit certificate from a panel doctor of E.S.I. and with that certificate, he came to rejoin his duty. There is unfortunately nothing to show that he really applied for extension of his original leave to the Company and was actually permitted to avail himself of further leave. It is naturally to be expected that when such a workman wanted further leave in continuation of his originally sanctioned leave, he should have made an application for the extension of leave to the Company and obtained the Company's consent in writing. But, there is nothing to prove that he made any such application or was granted any permission to avail himself of the extended leave. The custom of the Company in the matter of granting medical leave has been stated by O P.W. 1 Shri Kanailal Dutta to be that the worker concerned has got to deposit the medical certificate in the mill office and the local office of the E.S.I. and then a slip is issued to him by the mill for the leave granted. I see no reason to disbelieve this evidence of this witness. I have also not been impressed by the vague and interested oral testimonies of P W 1 Shri Ramanand Pandey, the concerned workman himself. According to his evidence, he was certainly in possession of a fit certificate from a panel doctor of E S.I. and with this fit certificate, he came to rejoin his duty but was refused permission to do so by the Company. This original fit certificate has not been produced. Exhibit 1(a) is said to be a true copy of the said certificate. This copy was sent to the Assistant Labour Commissioner along with the Union's letter, dated 6th July 1958. Exhibit 1(a) is not even certified to be a true copy by any authorised or responsible person. I am unable to accept this document as genuine and bona fide and to act upon it. There is absolutely no reasonable explanation as to why the original certificate with which the concerned workman went to rejoin his work has not been produced. That he went to rejoin his work with the original certificate will appear from the following statements of the concerned workman in his evidence: "When I became fit for work, I took certificate from a panel doctor and with that certificate I went to join my work, but I was not allowed to join." After carefully considering and comparing the evidence of both sides in respect of this workman, Shri Ramanand Pandey, I am satisfied that he over-stayed his leave originally granted to him up to 3rd July 1959 and was absent from duty for a substantial period in an unauthorised manner after the expiry of his authorised leave and for this unauthorised absence from duty on his part, he made himself liable to discharge or dismissal by the Company and in the present case, the Company acted bona fide and on sufficient grounds in dismissing or discharging him for his unauthorised absence from duty after the expiry of his authorised leave. So, I also hold in his case that his discharge or dismissal by the Company for unauthorised absence from duty was justified and he is not entitled to any relief and I award accordingly in his case. The whole case under reference is fully and finally disposed of by this award read along with the interim award made on 19th August 1961 and published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 21st September 1961, at page 3485.

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Shri D. N. BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. C. PAL, M.A., LL.B., Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri J. N. Banerjee, General Secretary.

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Deputy Legal Adviser (India Engineering Association).

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by seven persons, namely, (1) Shri D. N. Chakravorty, (2) Mrs. E. Cove, (3) Shri A. C. Mitra, (4) Shri B. G. Welch, (5) Shri O. G. King, (6) Shri A. B. C. Victor, and (7) Shri G. W. Smith—all represented by the Blackwood Hodge Employees' Welfare Union (hereafter briefly called Union), for redresses against Messrs Blackwood Hodge (India) Private Limited (hereinafter briefly called Company). The case of the Union is this: The applicants were entitled to annual increments of pay with effect from the respective dates mentioned in the Schedule annexed to the written statement, and these incremental scales became conditions of their services. The Company granted increments to all its workers except these seven persons, only applicant No. 7 being given half the amount of increment. By withholding annual increments of these persons the Company contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by altering the conditions of services. The act of the Company was illegal and unjustified. The Union therefore prays for the grant of increments to these applicants with effect from the dates given in the Schedule below

Schedule

Name.	Grade.	Range.	Present pay. Rs.	Increment due.
Shri D. N. Chakravarty ..	Special 3	300—50—750	500	Novr. 1960.

Shri A. C. Mitra ..	"A"	250—25—450	325	1. 2. 1961.
Shri B. C. Welch ..	"C"	150—15—250	210	Novr. 1960
Shri O. G. King ..	"A"	250- 25—450	350	Novr. 1960.
Shri A. B. C. Victor ..	Tech. IA	400—11—499	466	1. 4. 1961.
Shri G. W. Smith ..	Special 3	300—50—750	475	Novr. 1960.

The case for the Company is that the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act were not violated and the alleged increments of the applicants are not at all conditions of service, and hence the application under section 33A of the Act is not maintenable. As respects merits also the Company avers that the grant of partial increment to Mr. Smith and the withholding of increments to other applicants is proper and justified. The service records of Mr. Welch and Mr. King reveal unsatisfactory state of affairs regarding their attendance and regularity, and they were found not eligible for increment on the review made by the Company. Sarbasri Chakravorty and Mitra are already enjoying more remuneration than warranted by the nature of their work, and on a review made by the Company regarding their merit, efficiency and performance they were not found eligible for increment. As for Mr. Victor, he was recently promoted as the Workshop Superintendent and was not considered for further increment on the review made by the Company. Mr. Smith's performance was not up to the standard and he was not eligible for full increment. Mrs. Cove resigned the service on 25th July 1961 and her present salary was more than sufficient for an ordinary copy-typist like her, and so she was not considered fit for further increment on merit.

The Union has examined all the applicants except Mrs. Cove, who had resigned her job and left for England. It has also put in two grades list (Exts. 1-2), two letters, dated 20th October 1959 and 21st February 1958 (Exts. 3 and 6), the Provident Fund Rules (Ext. 4) and the Service Rules (Ext. 5). On the other hand, the Company has examined its personnel officer Shri P. K. Dutt, and put in some letters (Exts. A to F, G/1 and H), leave records (Exts. G and G/2), and staff recommendations with orders (Exts. I-I 1 and J series).

First of all, I take up the question of preliminary objection raised by Shri Chatterjee on behalf of the Company. For proper understanding of the point, I cite below section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947:

"33. (1) During the pendency of any conciliation proceeding before a conciliation officer or a Board or of any proceeding before a Labour Court or Tribunal or National Tribunal in respect of an industrial dispute no employer shall—

(a) in regard to any matter connected with the dispute alter, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such dispute, the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceeding; or

(b) for any misconduct connected with the dispute, discharge or punish, whether by dismissal or otherwise, any workman concerned in such dispute, save with express permission in writing of the authority before which the proceeding is pending.

(2) During the pendency of any such proceeding in respect of an industrial dispute the employer may, in accordance with the standing orders applicable to a workman concerned in such dispute,--

(a) alter, in regard to any matter not connected with the dispute, the conditions of service applicable to that workman immediately before the commencement of such proceeding; or

(b) for any misconduct not connected with the dispute, discharge or punish, whether by dismissal or otherwise, that workman:

Provided that no such workman shall be discharged or dismissed, unless he has been paid wages for one month and an application has been made by the employer to the authority before which the proceeding is pending for approval of the action taken by the employer."

Now, if the provisions of this section 33 are not nfringed, the application for relief under section 33A of the Act shall not be maintainable. The contention of Shri Chatterjee is mainly two-fold. Firstly, it is said, the annual increment of wages is not a condition of service as it depends, in the present case, entirely on the discretion of the Company. The original dispute, in connection whereof the application under section 33A was filed, related to amendment of the Provident Fund Rules, to which the question of increment has no relation, and as such the present matter is not connected ith the original dispute, so that section 33(1) has o application. Secondly, it is contended, the resent matter, having no connection with the riginal dispute, may come under section 33(2) but et this provision of law cannot be said to have een contravened because under sub-clause (a) of ection 33(2) the employer may alter the condition f service even if the matter of increment be taken s a condition of service and also because there was o discharge or dismissal but there was only witholding of increments, so that section 33(2) also was ot violated. It is to be seen whether and how ar these objections are tenable.

As a matter of fact, increments of salaries attach the grade and scales of pay, and as such these ght to be reckoned as forming part of conditions service. This matter has also some sort of conction with the original dispute which was in gard to amendment of the Provident Fund Rules om Ext. A it is seen that an employee is under obligation to contribute 10 per cent. of pay wards the Staff Provident Fund. Such contribuon would be affected if increment is not allowed this sense also the matter of increment may well e considered as a condition of service. This gets pport from clause (5) of Ext. 4 also. It is said r the Company that even if the increment be taken ndition of service at all, the employees' right bsists as the condition has not been altered time to come. This argument is neither convincing nor valid. In 1952 L.A.C. 133 it has been held that increment is part of the conditions of service and cannot be changed or abrogated without the permission of the Tribunal. For all these reasons, therefore, I come to the conclusion that section 33(1)(a) is applicable in the present case, but this provision has been infringed, so that the application under section 33A is maintainable. The legal objections of the Company are therefore rejected.

As regards merits of the case, the argument for the Company is that the employees cannot claim increments as of right as it entirely depends on the discretion of the management. Such discretion, if any, ought to be exercised not whimsically but judiciously and bona fide. Shri Chatterjee for the Company has referred to an Award published at pages 2114-2117 of the "Extraordinary Calcutta Gazette" of 10th September 1956, which was passed on amicable settlement with respect to a dispute between this Company and its workmen by the Seventh Industrial Tribunal of West Bengal. Apart from setting out the grade scales of pay in that Award, there were some specific stipulations in clause 7 of that settlement as follows:

"7. It is mutually agreed that yearly increments, although specified in the above rates of pay, are subject to recommendations of the departmental heads as to the man's merits, efficiency, regularity and conduct, and the approval of the Board of Directors. The above scales of pay are subject to revision at any time by the Board of Directors."

It cannot, however, be gainsaid that a workman's increment may be withheld by way of punishment or on account of inefficiency. But even in such cases the management should act bona fide, reasonably and with good principle. It is to be seen whether the Company's action in withholding increments of the applicants is justified. This I propose to consider by taking the applicant's cases individually:

(1) Re. Shri D. N. Chakravorty:

Shri Dutt (O.P.W. 1) prepared a list of employees, in which Mr. Domodor (the Assistant Parts Manager) wrote remarks about increments, and final orders therein were passed by Mr. Manning, the overall head. (Vide Ext. J series.) One Mr. Kempster appear to have written notes allowing or rejecting increments. None of them has been examined before this Tribunal.

In case of Shri Chakravorty, increment of Rs. 50 became due on 1st November 1960. The remark against his name in Ext. J series is this:

"No increment recommended this year, as it is felt that he is paid more than adequately for the job he is doing. Not a very sincere worker."

Final order was "No increment. Review November." That is to say, the consideration of his increment was deferred by one year. The reason stated is vague. The worker was granted increment previously. It is no ground to stop increment by saying that the present pay is enough.

If that were so, why should there be review in November 1961? The remark of insincerity finds no mention in the written statement of the Company. It appears to be an after-thought. Exhibit J series were filed too late. In Company's letter, dated 20th November 1959 (Ext. 3), to Shri Chakravorty, the following was stated:

> ".....the Management has been pleased to sanction you a special increment of Rs. 50 in your present salary with a grade promotion to Grade Special 3 with effect from 1st November 1959. Your revised salary, therefore, will be Rs. 500 as from 1st November 1959."

A worker with such recommendations to his credit cannot be said to have become insincere suddenly. In my belief, it is nothing but a dodge to stop his increment, even if it may be for one year or so. The Company's action in withholding increment of this worker is not justified at all, and he shall be entitled to get his increment from 1st November 1960.

(2) Re. Mrs. E. Cove:

She voluntarily gave up her job on 25th July 1961 and left for England. Her case must go by default, and the relief asked for on her account must be rejected.

(3) Re. Shri A. C. Mitra:

In the written statement of the Company he has been put as the same type of worker as Shri Chakravorty (No. 1). The same reason is stated therein for not granting increment to him. It is no excuse to withhold increment by saying that the salary drawn by the worker is more than enough. Until the scale-limit is reached, the employee is entitled to get annual increment except for exceptional reasons. The only remark against his name in Ext. J series is "An average worker only who is presently drawing more than he should for the work he is doing or is capable of doing. No increment recommended." These do not fall within the subjects stipulated in the aforesaid Award. This worker was elevated to Grade "A" on a revised salary of Rs. 275 per month from 1st February 1958. (Vide Ext. 6.) The withholding of increment of such a worker on a flimsy ground as above is but an unreasonable and capricious act on the part of the Management. He got his earned annual increment up to January 1961. There was no justifiable cause for not granting him increment thereafter. I hold that this employee is also entitled to get the increment from 1st February 1961 as asked for.

(4) Re. Shri B. G. Welch:

The remarks about him in Ext. J series is as follows:

> "An average clerical type who is doing the same type of work as A. C. Mitra. Not likely to show any improvement in the future but is nevertheless recommended to the normal increment of Rs. 15."

The overall officer ordered increment, but it was penned through by the final authority. In the written statement allegation is made as to this employee's irregular attendance. The leave record (Ext. G/2) justifies this allegation. Shri Wel own evidence also does not improve his case. Company's action in withholding increment to worker does not, in the circumstances, appear tc unjustified. So the prayer for his sake st rejected. It is hoped that the Company will mal review in next November regarding his increm

(5) Re. Shri O. G. King:

The Company has, in its written statement, m this workman the same type of worker as Welch in respect of attendance and regularity. leave record (Ext. G) is not much better than of Shri Welch. The remark about him in Ex series is to this effect:

> "Irregular, insincere but is intelligent. stoppage of increment this year m improve him."

The suggestion was accepted, increment stopped, and review was to be made in Novem next. But he resigned from service on 3rd Octc 1961. Admittedly there was a charge-sh against him, though after November 1960. charge was for irregular attendance, habitual attendance, being in heavy arrears of works. (Ext D.) He was found guilty and was awarde light punishment of suspension for three days o (Vide Ext. F.) These are certainly to his discre In the circumstance I hold that the Company justified in not granting increment to him. So prayer also stands rejected.

(6) Re. Shri A. B. C. Victor:

The workman was promoted as the Worksh Superintendent. The promotion is said to be reason for not granting the annual increment on 1st April 1961. This is not a valid reason all. It is not covered by the agreement as aforesaid Award. Admittedly the promotion it carried no special increment. Yet the employe usual increment in the old post was refused on very flimsy ground. There is no allegation inefficiency, irregular attendance, or anything el He himself recommended for increment of worke of his department, including his own case. But t Management made no note, either rejecting allowing his increment. (See Ext. I.) On 8th Jun 1961 he wrote for increment. The reply was given after the filing of this case, by Mr R. L. Kemiste who intimated that Victor's supervisory functio were not satisfactory and that he was thinking reverting the worker to his former job. (Ext. C.) That is really no good answer to claim for increment. In my view, therefore, th was no sufficient cause for withholding increm to Shri Victor, and this act of the Company clearly unjustified. This worker is entitled to his usual increment with effect from 1st April 19

(7) Re. Shri G. W. Smith:

The Company states in its written statemc that the performance of this worker was not up the mark and so he was not considered eligible f full increment of Rs. 50. The remark in Ext series is this: "Has been observed to be v lazy and will not do more than what is necessa However, a token increment of Rs. 25 is reco mended." This suggestion was accepted by t

Management, with a note for making review in November next. If the man were really very lazy, the whole increment could have been stopped by way of punishment. There is no meaning in allowing partial (i.e., half) increment, which offends against the grade scale itself In the written statement, no laziness is alleged. The story mentioned in the late-filed Ext. J series seems to be another instance of after-thought. The written statement only states "performance not up to the mark." But there is no clarification anywhere, in the written statement or by evidence. This allegation is therefore too vague to be taken as a good ground for stopping increment. The stoppage of half of the increment of Shri Smith is therefore unjustified, and he shall be entitled to get this half of increment from 1st November 1960.

In view of the above decisions, the Company is directed to pay, within one month from the date of publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette", the increments due to applicants Nos. (1) Shri D. N. Charkrvorty, (3) Shri A. C. Mitra, (6) Shri A. B. C. Victor, and (7) Shri G. W. Smith, with effect from the dates noted against their respective names. This is my Award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., P.O. Burnpur, and their workmen represented by the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union, Kendwa Road, P.O. Kulti, district Burdwan. (Case No. VIII-C-177 of 1959.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sengupta, Advocate.

By order No. 2525-I.R./IR/10L-7(L)/59, dated Calcutta, the 4th June 1959, and subsequent corrigendum No. 3279-I.R./IR/10L-7(L)/59, dated Calcutta, the 18th July 1959, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., and their workmen represented by the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issue mentioned in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Kunjan, Ex. T. No. K-552 of the Coke Ovens Department, is justified? To what relief, if any, he is entitled?

According to the Union, the background and facts of the case are as follows:—

Shri Kunjan, the workman mentioned in the issue of the order of reference, was first an employee of the Company at its Kulti Works. He was dismissed by the Company for his trade union activities on 20th May 1955. His case along with that of five other workmen was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal which by its award reinstated them. Since the reinstatement the Company was on the look out for an opportunity to victimise him. In October 1958 the Company closed down the C and D batteries of the coke oven at Kulti, and a large number of workmen including Shri Kunjan were declared surplus. A great agitation followed and Shri Kunjan took a prominent part in that agitation. A settlement was reached, and he along with others were employed at the Coke Oven Plant of the Company at Burnpur. It was arranged that those living at Kulti would be carried from Kulti to Burnpur and back in a train provided by the Company. Those who failed to avail of the train had to make their own arrangements for conveyance or to cover the distance on foot. On 18th December 1958 Shri Kunjan could not catch the train as he was late in reaching the point from which the train started. So he had no alternative than to walk on foot, and as his way lay through areas which abound in criminals and anti-social elements, he carried with him a short lathi and a knife for his personal safety. As he went on foot, he was late in attending to his duty, and he hurriedly went to the place of his duty without leaving his lathi and the knife outside. One Jagdish Singh who is a member of the rival union and who tried his level best to make Shri Kunjan a member of his union, saw Kunjan with the lathi and the knife and made a false complaint against him. Accordingly Shri Kunjan was served with a charge-sheet on 19th December 1958. He replied to the charge-sheet denying the charges and explained the circumstances under which he had to carry the lathi and the knife with him. The management did not consider his explanation or hold any enquiry, but dismissed him on 24th December 1958 in a most arbitrary manner.

So the Union contends that the dismissal of Shri Kunjan is unjustified.

The Company denies the allegation that it was on the look-out for an opportunity to dismiss Shri Kunjan after his reinstatement in accordance with the award of the Fifth Industrial Tribunal. The Company says that after the closing down of C and D batteries at Kulti it contacted Hindusthan Steel Private Ltd. at Durgapur, Rourkella and Bhilai so that the surplus men could be absorbed in the different steel units of the country as well as at Burnpur. The Company had then an excellent opportunity of getting rid of the six reinstated men by drafting them to Rourkella or Bhilai, but it did not do so and absorbed them at Burnpur. So the Company contends that the plea of victimisation is untenable.

According to the Company, the background and facts of the case are as follows:—

Asansol Iron & Steel Workers' Union was formed by the workers of the Company and was registered under the Trade Union Act long ago. In January 1953 some workers went against the then officials of the above Union for personal rivalry and formed a committee named Action Committee, and started slow-down tactics. The officials of the above Union, however, ultimately succeeded in bringing the majority of the workers to their senses and in inducing them to resume work in a proper way. The Action Committee members became annoyed and formed the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union, the Union mentioned in the order of reference. This Union has been carrying on a feud with the members and officials of the older union. Shri Jagdish Singh is one of the prominent members of the older Union. As he had a great influence with his colleagues in the Coke Oven Department, the latter Union was after him. The Secretary of the older Union informed the officer-in-charge of the Local police-station by a letter, dated 14th December 1958, that the life of Shri Jagdish Singh was unsafe on account of the activities of the members of the new Union. On 19th December 1958, Shri Jagdish Singh informed Shri A. Chatterjee, Shift General Foreman, that at about 11 p.m. while he was on duty with another workman named Harihar, somebody threw a brick at him and both of them saw Kunjan running away from the place from the direction of which the brick was thrown. He also said that he had reason to believe that Shri Kunjan was carrying a dagg concealed under his clothes. On receipt of this com plaint Shri Chatterjee sent for Kunjan immediatel but he was not found at the place of his dut About an hour later, i.e., at about 12-30 a.n Kunjan came to Shri Chatterjee. He was told abou the complaint of Jagdish and was asked whether h had any concealed weapon with him. He denie both the allegations. He was then searched, and dagger in a sheath was found hidden in his clothe He could not give any satisfactory explanation the possession of the weapon at that time. charge-sheet was thereupon issued against him; contained the following three charges:

(1) Throwing of brick at Jagdish;

(2) Missing from place of duty from 11-30 p.m to 12-30 a.m.;

(3) Carrying a lathi and a concealed dagger.

He submitted an explanation to the charge-sheet; i the explanation he denied the first two charges an explained the circumstances under which he wa carrying a lathi and a dagger. The explanation wa not only unsatisfactory but was evidently false. He did not explain those circumstances when he was questioned immediately on the dagger being found on his person. It was also found that his story of coming to the factory on that date on foot was not trustworthy. There were also other circumstances which clearly showed that his explanation was false and that the complaint of Jagdish was perfectly true The management considered the matter and came to the view that he himself was an anti-social element and that as such his retention in the service would be not only undesirable but also risky for all concerned. The management therefore by a letter, dated 24th December 1958, discharged him from service with effect from 25th December 1958.

So the Company contends that the dismissal of Shri Kunjan is justified.

The Company has also raised a preliminar objection that this is not an industrial dispute.

Findings

The Company has not adduced any evidence in support of the preliminary objection that this is not an industrial dispute. On the other hand, the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Kalyan Roy, Office Secretary of the Union, clearly shows that this is an industrial dispute. I now enter into the merits of the case.

Immediately after Shri Kunjan had come before Shri A. Chatterjee, Shift General Foreman, the latter made an enquiry and submitted a report t his superior Mr. Lucas, Coke Oven Superintenden The charge-sheet was issued to Shri Kunjan there after. No enquiry was held after the receipt c explanation of Shri Kunjan. So the enquiry held b Shri Chatterjee cannot be called an enquiry legally required to be held before a disciplinary action is taken against a workman. So the case is at large before me. O.P.W. 4 Shri Jagdish Singh and O.P.W. 5 Shri Harihar have deposed about Sh Kunjan's throwing a brick at O.P.W. 4. They d not see Kunjan throwing the brick. They saw th as soon as the brick fell, they looked and sa Shri Kunjan running away. Shri Kunjan denied the allegation as soon as he was confronted with it. The incident is alleged to have taken place at night. According to O.P.W.'s 4 and 5 Shri Kunjan was at a higher level than they. It is also on evidence that most of the labourers in that department wear black shirts. In such circumstances it is quite possible for O.P.W.'s 4 and 5 to make a mistake as to the identity of the person whom they saw running away. Again O.P.W. 4 cannot be called a disinterested witness, because he admits that he was under the impression that Shri Kunjan was angry with him. It has been proved that Shri Kunjan was carrying a dagger with him, and it is also the allegation of the company that he was carrying a lathi with him. If he had the intention to beat Shri Jagdish on that night, it is improbable that he would adopt the uncertain means of throwing a brick instead of using the dagger or the lathi. So I hold that the Company has not been able to substantiate the charge that Shri Kunjan threw a brick at Shri Jagdish Singh.

M.W. 2 Shri Barun Chatterjee has deposed about Kunjan not being found at the place of his duty. mediately on coming before Shri A. Chatterjee P.W. 1) Shri Kunjan explained his whereabouts the meantime. Whatever may be said as to the th of this explanation of Shri Kunjan, the fact mains that the foreman who was in charge of the rk of Shri Kunjan on that night has not been mined in this case; he would have been the best rson to say whether Shri Kunjan was missing m the place of his duty from 11-30 p.m. to 30 a.m. So I hold that the Company has failed to ve the charge against Shri Kunjan that he was ssing from the place of his duty from 11-30 p.m. 12-30 a.m.

ri Kunjan has admitted that he carried a lathi a dagger with him; the dagger was found on person. Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate, appearing for Company, has argued that the carrying of a lathi dagger by a workman is subversive of discipline. ree that this is so, if the fact of carrying is known others. In the present case there is no evidence t any person saw the lathi with Shri Kunjan. He not carry the dagger openly, he kept it ncealed under his clothes. In such circumstances ch carrying cannot be called to be subversive of cipline, because discipline has always a relation to hers. Actually in the written statement the mpany does not say that it dismissed Shri Kunjan considered his action subversive of discipline; ie written statement the Company has stated it dismissed him because he was considered a gerous man and an anti-social element. I agree a man carrying a dagger openly or in a ealed manner at his place of work must be sidered to be a dangerous man, unless he offers tisfactory explanation for the possession of the ger. There is no evidence that Shri Kunjan was the habit of possessing a lathi or a dagger while his work. It was only on 18th December 1958 a dagger was found concealed in his person. as given an explanation for carrying a lathi and ger on that day. It is true that his explanation that he came on foot has been found to be false; his explanation that he came partly by a bus partly on foot has not been proved to be false. also true that his explanation does not erate him beyond any shadow of doubt, but at the same time it cannot be said that his explanation was false. This must be conceded that his explanation is worth considering. If his explanation is believed, none can find fault with him for possession of a dagger on a single day. So I hold the third charge, viz., carrying a lathi and a concealed dagger, in the circumstances of the case, does not call for a penal action.

In view of the above considerations, I hold that the dismissal of Shri Kunjan is unjustified. I therefore order that he should be reinstated within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

I consider the dismissal of Shri Kunjan as unjustified, as it is the result of a misjudgment on the part of the management. There is no evidence in support of the allegation of victimisation made by the Union. There is no reason why Shri A. Chatterjee on whose report Shri Kunjan was dismissed should want to victimise him. The plea that because the management of a Company looks upon a particular Union with disfavour the hierarchy of officers of that Company should take it in their heads to victimise all members of that Union is a bunkum. In the present case Shri A. Chatterjee committed a mistake in judgment. For that mistake Shri Kunjan was himself largely responsible. If he had spoken before Shri A. Chatterjee what according to him was the truth, Shri Chatterjee might have taken a different view on the matter. As Shri Kunjan is himself largely responsible for the misjudgment leading to his dismissal, I do not order that he should be given wages for the period prior to his reinstatement. The period from the date of his dismissal until the date of his reinstatement should be treated as a period of leave without pay.

AWARD

The above dispute over the Issues given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5094-I.R. IR 4L-42/59, dated 11th October 1960.

The Issues are of a general nature and these are as follows:

Issues

Wages and Dearness Allowance.

Overtime wages.

Leave and holidays.

Decisions

Issue No. 1: Wages and Dearness Allowance: According to the case of the Union, we are concerned only with two categories of workers, lorry drivers and lorry coolies. According to the respective cases of the parties and also according to the evidence on the record, the concerned employers own three lorries between themselves, one belonging to the partnership firm, Messrs. Bansilal Jagannath Prosad, and each of the other two belonging respectively to the two partners, Shri Jagannath Prosad Sharma and Shri Bansilal Roy, and the employers employ under them three drivers for the three lorries and some coolies for each lorry. According to the employers, the drivers are paid monthly wages at the rate of Rs. 100 and the coolies, who are only casual workers and not permanent and continuous workers are paid at the rate of Rs. 2 per diem. This is the employers' case in the written statement. But, in his evidence, the only witness for the employers, Shri Ramesh Chandra Chatterjee (O.P.W. 1), has admitted that two drivers are paid at the rate of Rs. 100 per month but one driver is paid at the rate of Rs. 110 per month. It is admitted that no separate dearness allowance is paid to the drivers. The Union has claimed that for lorry drivers the minimum wages should be Rs. 100 per month with a dearness allowance of Rs. 50 per month. In his evidence, the only witness for the Union, Shri Jharu Rajwara (P.W. 1), has said that there are other lorry owners in the locality and they pay their drivers Rs. 120 per month as pay and Re. 1 per diem as Khoraki. There is no other evidence to prove this rate of wages and Khoraki for the lorry drivers employed by other owners in the locality. I am unable to believe this uncorroborated testimony in the absence of any evidence of any competent person representing any other lorry-owner in the locality. On behalf of the employers, reference has been made to the minimum wages in Public Motor Transport Service in West Bengal fixed by Notification No. 5454-Lab., dated 29th August 1951 (published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 6th September 1951, Part I, page 2311), and it has been contended that the reasonable emoluments of the lorry drivers to be fixed in the present case should be based upon the minimum wages fixed by this notification. According to this notification, different rates of basic pay and dearness allowance were fixed for the different zones in West Bengal. Zone V of this notification covers the districts of Hooghly and Howrah, and in the present case we are concerned with the Howrah area. According to the Table D of paragraph 1 of the schedule to this notification, the following rates of monthly basic pay and dearness allowance for drivers in Zone V holding licence for more than five years and also holding licence for less than five years were fixed:

	Basic pay. Rs.	D. A. Rs.	Total. Rs.
Drivers holding licence for more than five years	65	30	95
Drivers holding licence for less than five years	60	30	90

It is, however, to be taken into account that the aforesaid minimum wages were fixed about 10 years ago and since then there has been considerable rise in the cost of living. Having regard to these factors, I consider it fair and equitable to fix a general rate of monthly pay and dearness allowance for the concerned lorry drivers working under these employers, irrespective of the periods of their licences, in the following manner:

	Rs.
Basic pay	75
Dearness allowance	40
Total:	115

I am also of the view that the aforesaid rates of pay and dearness allowance should be effective from 1st April 1961.

I now take up the case of coolies. After considering the evidence on the record, I accept the employers' case that the coolies are casual workers and they are being paid at the rate of Rs. 2 per diem. The Notification of Minimum Wages in Public Motor Transport Service does not cover the case of coolies. After considering the evidence of both sides and hearing the learned representatives of both sides, I hold that the present rate of Rs. 2 per diem for coolies should be increased to Rs. 2.25 nP. per diem.

On the findings and for the reasons given above, I fix the total remuneration of the concerned lorry drivers and lorry coolies as follows:

Lorry Drivers—

	Rs.
Basic pay	75
Dearness allowance	40
Total	115

Lorry Coolies—Rs. 2.25 nP. per diem inclusive of Dearness Allowance.

The aforesaid rates shall come into force from 1st April 1961 and the employers shall pay the arrears of wages representing the difference between the old rates and the rates fixed as above to the concerned employees within a month from the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette". I award accordingly in respect of this Issue.

Issue No. 2: Overtime wages: According to the evidence of the Union, the working hours are from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the workers are also made to work overtime after 5 p.m. without payment of any overtime wages. But, according to the employers' evidence, the working hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and no overtime work is imposed on any worker. The evidence is oath versus oath. I prefer to accept the oath of the employers' witness, O.P.W. 1 Shri Ramesh Chandra Chatterjee, and accordingly, I accept the employers' case in this respect. At the same time, I must make some provision for overtime wages in case any worker is made to work overtime in future. I think that the general principle enunciated in respect of overtime wages in Notification No. 5154-Lab., dated the 29th August 1959, relating to conditions of service in Public Motor Transport in West Bengal should be substantially adopted in the present case. Accordingly, I decide under this issue in accordance with the principles laid down in the aforesaid notification that the rate of overtime wages for every hour on a particular day shall be double the amount which is obtained by dividing the sum-total of basic wages and dearness allowance by the number of days constituting the month multiplied by the number of hours constituting the normal working day. I further decide that if any worker is made to work on a day of weekly rest or any festival holidays as may be allowed by this award under the next issue, he shall get double the normal basic wages and dearness allowance. I award accordingly.

Issue No. 3: Leave and holidays: I am satisfied from the evidence produced before me that all the workers get leave on each Sunday, which is a day of rest. I think this is quite sufficient so far as leave is concerned.

So far as holidays are concerned, it clearly appea from the evidence that no holiday is allowed to a worker even for any festival. I think that in fairness to the workers, they should at least get tw festival holidays, one for Duserrah and another f Dewali. These holidays shall be given in additi to the stoppage of work on any other day by t employers themselves for some unavoidable rea with full wages to the workers. Accordingly, decide that the workers should continue to enj one day's weekly leave on each Sunday and th shall also enjoy two festival holidays, one f Duserrah and another for Dewali, in addition to t stoppage of work on any other day by the employe themselves for some unavoidable reason with f pay to the workers. I award accordingly in respe of this Issue.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. R. C. Ghose & Sons, 285/4 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by R. C. Ghose & Sons. Employees' Union, 19/2A Pitambar Ghatak Lane, Calcutta-27 (Case No. VIII-92/61).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri N. B. CHAUDHURI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri Nikhil Ranjan Ray, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Hiralal Ray, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 1051-I.R./IR/11L-190/60, dated the 4th March 1961, and subsequent corrigendum No. 2017-I.R./IR/11L-190/60, dated the 26th April 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. R. C. Ghose & Sons, 285/4 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12 (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by R. C. Ghose & Sons Employees' Union, 19/2A Pitambar Ghatak Lane, Calcutta-27 (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudication in this case is as follows:—

Whether the refusal of full work to Shri Sadhan Chandra Das is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

AWARD

After service of usual notices on the parties, both the parties filed their respective written statements. The case of the workmen concerned as stated in the written statement filed on his behalf is this: Messrs. R. C. Ghose and Sons is a prosperous concern engaged in the manufacture and trade of spectacles, accessories and allied articles; and Shri Das was a workman in the employment of this Company for about 27 years with very clean and meritorious record of service. The monthly earning of Shri Das varied usually between Rs. 150 and Rs. 200. In a dispute between this Company and its employees an award was passed by the Fifth Industrial Tribunal granting one month's wages as bonus to all workmen of the Company, but the Company unreasonably failed to implement this award in respect of Shri Das. Shri Das having demanded the benefit of the award, the Company started refusing to give him sufficient work and thereby causing loss to the earnings of Shri Das. The Company thus decreased the income of Shri Das, and his income was pushed down to the starvation level. So, Shri Das was compelled to discontinue attending Company's workshop office for the sake of feeding his family by some other means. Hence, this dispute.

The Company's case, on the other hand, in its written statement is that it has a business in spectacles and maintains a shop and also a very small factory for grinding lenses and attending some repair works for which there are regular paid employees. Shri Das was a mistry who served many masters and did private shopping and repair work. He approached the Company for a space in the factory for attending repair works secured from outside. He also prayed that he would attend surplus job work of this Company as well. The Company allowed his prayer, and charged no rent for thus providing him with a seat in the shop. Thus he used to come to the Company's shop, do repair work secured from outside and also attend some job work of this Company for which he used to be paid on piece rate basis. Shri Das was never a full-fledged worker. He used to come to the Company's shop at any hour suitable to him. His attendance or absence was simply voluntary. In the aforesaid circumstances, Shri Das was never employed by the Company, and he himself voluntarily terminated his services in August 1960.

Other facts will appear from the body of the award that follows:—

Decisions

From what I have stated above, it will be clear that according to Shri Das, he was a permanent employee of the Company attending Company's work and getting remuneration on piece rate basis. His allegation is that the Company in pursuance of unfair labour practice refused to give him sufficient work in the latter period of his employment under it and thus compelled him to leave Company's employment. On the other hand, the Company's simple case is that Shri Das was never its permanent employee, and that he used to do particular works only for the Company on piecemeal contractual basis. So, the first point to be determined is whether Shri Das was a regular employee of the Company. Shri Das in his own deposition admits that he used to get wages on piece rate basis and his wages used to be determined by the volume of work he actually did. He further admits that the Company maintains Attendance register for its regular employees, but he never signed such Attendance register although other employees used to sign the same. He also admits that all the regular employees of the Company used to receive their salary or wages by signing the pay book, but in his case he used to receive payment of his wages by signing vouchers. It is also not in dispute that Shri Das used to receive payment of his wages from day to day, and at the close of each day. He clearly admits that his remuneration varied according to nature and volume of work. At times he used to bargain with the Company for settling his remuneration for attending different works. It is common case of both the parties that the regular employees of the Company attend Company's office at 10 a.m. and leave the same at 5 p.m. But according to Shri Das himself, he used to attend office at 10-30 a.m. and generally used to work till 7 p.m. in the evening. On the other hand, the evidence of the Company is that Shri D used to attend Company's shop at any hour bef 2 p.m. and leave it at any hour he liked. Thus is clear from Shri Das's evidence that he was not treated on par with other employees of the Compar Even, though other employees of the Compar eceived bonus on the strength of an award by an ndustrial Tribunal, he was not allowed to enjoy he benefit of such award. O.P.W. 1 Shri Amal rishna Ghose, one of the partners of the Company, wears that Shri Das was never a regular employee f the Company. He further adds that Shri Das, bout 20 years back, came to the Management and sked for a sitting accommodation only for doing is work. He used to do the work of fitting, adjust- ıg and repairing not only for this Company but also or others. He used to work on separate contract asis for each piece of work and the Company was equired to bargain with him for settling his charges ow and then. In fact, this is admitted by Shri)as also. So, from the evidences discussed above, can at once conclude that Shri Das was never ppointed as a regular employee of the Company. hri Das no doubt used to work for the Company, ut his remuneration often used to be settled after argain with the Management, and he used to work or the Company on individual contract basis for ach piece of work. There might be certain general ates for certain kinds of work, but in the absence f general rates the parties were required to bar- ain and settle the charges. Shri Das never obtained ny appointment letter. The Company's books also ever treated him as an employee. In the face of all hese circumstances, there is no escape from the onclusion that the relationship of master and ervant was never established between Shri Das and he Company. There is not an iota of evidence to how that the Company ever guaranteed any minimum vage to him. There is nothing to show that the Company undertook to provide him with sufficient vork daily. It is the clear evidence of the Company hat Shri Das used to be given such work, only as was available in the Company's hand. This is not lisputed by Shri Das also. Shri Das was not the ily worker of this type. His own witness Shri iresh Chandra Banerjee (P.W. 3) also admits that ri Charu Chandra Das is another worker doing nilar duties like Shri Das and on same conditions. is also admitted that the quality of Charu Babu's ork is better than that of Shri Das, and so Charu abu usually gets more work. There is no reliable idence to show that the Company ever purposely ithheld any work from Shri Das with any mala de motive. So, I am not at all satisfied that the ompany purposely refused to give him work in ursuance of an unfair labour practice or mala fide otive According to Shri Das, he could not earn s. 2 or Rs. 2-8 per diem during the last six months f his work in the Company's shop, and so he left le place of his work on 14th August 1960. He adds lat he thereafter took an employment on a pay of 0 per month at Himalayan Optical Co. ding to the Company, Shri Das actually left ace of his work because he got the said job he Himalayan Optical Co. and not for any reason. Be that as it may, the fact remains that is nothing to show that the Company was to provide him with sufficient work from day y, so that he might earn certain minimum nteed wages. According to the Company, Shri sed to work not only for this Company but utsiders also. Shri Das also admits that he to secure orders for such works from other anies as well, but he adds that he used to atten outside work at his own house and not at the pany's shop. The witness for the Company s that Shri Das actually used to attend outside work also in the Company's shop. In the circumstances discussed above, it is difficult to say that Shri Das used to work exclusively for this Company during office hours. So, my final conclusion is that Shri Das was not a regular employee of the Company, and the Company was not bound to provide him with sufficient work for his earning any minimum guaranteed wage. There is no reason to find that the Company unjustly refused to give him work simply to injure his economic interest. It is not at all in dispute that Shri Das voluntarily left the Company's shop and joined the service of another Company. So, in any view of the case, Shri Das is not entitled to any relief in this case. The issue is decided accordingly.

This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 4706-I.R./IR/11L-401/60, dated the 6th September 1960, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Lionel Edwards (Private) Ltd., India Steamship House, 21 Old Court House Street, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Lionel Edwards & I.S.S. Employees' Union, India Steamship House, 21 Old Court House Street, Calcutta-1, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

I. Is the Company justified in stopping increment of A. K. Dhani and in not allowing C. K. Gupta and M. N. Dey to cross the efficiency bar? To what relief, if any, are these workmen entitled?

This reference relates to an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Lionel Edwards (Private) Ltd., India Steamship House, 21 Old Court House Street, Calcutta (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Lionel Edwards & I.S.S. Employees' Union, 21 Old Court House Street, Calcutta (hereinafter be referred to as the Union). The reference was received from the Government on 16th September 1960 and immediately thereafter notices were sent out for service upon the parties calling upon them to appear and to file written statements of claim by the Union on 17th October 1960. Both parties entered appearance in time and the Union filed written statement of claim on the due date, but the Company took some adjournments and ultimately filed written statement on 2nd December 1960. But before actual hearing of the case several adjournments were taken by both parties. The case was heard on several days and finally concluded on 26th August 1961.

The Union's case in short is that the Company is a long-standing reputed firm. In 1949 some industrial disputes existing between the Company and its workmen were referred to Industrial Tribunal for adjudication and there was an award given by the tribunal which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 17th August 1949. By that award pay scales of the workmen of the Company were fixed. Two of the workmen Shri Chandra Kanta Gupta and Shri Monmotha Nath Dey, who work as Tally Clerks of the Company reached the 13th stage of the Grade "C" in 1957 and the next increment of each of them fell due on 1st March 1958, when both of them were to cross the efficiency bar. But the Company did not allow them to cross the efficiency bar on the plea that they are incapable of doing supervisory duties as table staff, although as Tally Clerk the work of each of them was found satisfactory. This action of the Company in stopping the increment of the two employees, namely Shri C. K. Gupta and Sh M. N. Dey is not justified and hence the dispute.

It is also the Union's case that another employee Shri Abani Kanta Dhani who has been serving as Typist since his appointment in 1949 was no allowed to cross the efficiency bar and to draw hi next increment which fell due on 1st June 1958 or the plea that he is habitually late in attendance and his work is not satisfactory. According to the Union, late attendance of Shri Dhani was not of a serious nature and that too was due to circumstances beyond his control, so, the action of the Company against the said employee by stopping his increment at the efficiency bar is not justified This is another case of the dispute.

The Company in the written statement has justified its action taken against the said employees According to the Company the employee Shri A. K. Dhani who is a Typist of the Company has been habitually late in attendance and at the same time he was irregular in attendance. He frequently used to absent himself from duty without previous permission or intimation. His work at the same time was found most unsatisfactory. He could not properly type out letters and official correspondence and in spite of previous warnings he showed no sign of improvement. So, the Company in the last resort stopped his annual increment at the efficiency bar.

In respect of the other two employees, namely Shri C. K. Gupta and Shri M. N. Dey, the Company has contended that they have been working as Tally Clerks. Their work is the simplest in nature requiring little intelligence and little education. The nature of their work is of the lowest order. They were found incapable of doing any responsible job in the supervisory capacity or as table staff. Therefore, they were held up at the efficiency bar at the 13th stage of the "C" Grade meant for clerical and allied staffs. The Company has denied the allegation of victimisation or unfair labour practice.

There is only one issue as above formulated in the order of reference. But the Company raised a preliminary objection as to jurisdiction of the tribunal to entertain this reference from the Government of West Bengal so far as it relates to the employees Shri C. K. Gupta and Shri

M. N. Dey. This preliminary objection was taken by the Company in the written statement. After hearing both parties and having gone through the pleadings a preliminary issue was framed as follows:

Is the present reference maintainable in law?

Decision

I proceed to consider the preliminary issue first. The learned Counsel appearing for the Company has urged before me that the tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain this reference from the Government of West Bengal so far as the dispute relates to the Tally Clerks, namely, Sarbashree C. K. Gupta and M. N. Dey in view of the fact that the Central Government is the appropriate Government who can make the reference relating to an industrial dispute concerning a major port under section 2(a)(i) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and not the Government of West Bengal. His contention is that the said two employees as Tally Clerks have got to work in the Calcutta Dock and as such the State Government is not competent to make reference of any dispute relating to them but in their case the Central Government is the appropriate authority to make such a reference. The present reference having been made by the State Government which is not the appropriate Government, the tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain this reference, which is bad and ultra vires.

The Union has seriously challenged the aforesaid contention of the Company. The learned Counsel appearing for the Union has, on the other hand, contended that the appropriate authority is the State Government and not the Central Government. The Company knew this fact very well and as such the Company never before raised any objection to the previous reference of disputes existing between the same Company and its workmen to the State Tribunal for adjudication and there was an award given by the Tribunal of the State which was implemented by the Company in respect of all its employees including the Tally Clerks. So, according to the Union it was a frivolous objection.

Admittedly, previously there was an award given by the State Tribunal in an industrial dispute existing between the Company and its workmen which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 17th August 1949. By that award, grades and pay scales of the employees of the Company were fixed. It is also not disputed that the Company implemented the said award in respect of all its employees including the Tally Clerks.

Then again it is in the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Deb Kumar Mukherji who is the Secretary to the Union that there was another award by the State Tribunal in respect of bonus for the years 1953 and 1954 and that award was also implemented in respect of all its employees including the Tally Clerks. This fact is not challenged.

It is also in the evidence of the same witness that regarding the demand of bonus for the year 1958 there was a conciliation proceeding in the Labour Directorate of this State and in that conciliation proceeding, both parties came to an agreement and in terms of the agreement all employees including the Tally Clerks became entitled to bonus for the year 1960 and they have already got it and the Company never raised any objection at any stage of the proceeding questioning the State Government's authority to take up the dispute relating to the Tally Clerks who generally work in the dock.

It is very clear from the Company's letter (Ext. C/7), dated 22nd August 1960, addressed to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, on the subject of efficiency bar of Shri Chandra Kanta Gupta and Shri Monmotha Nath Dey, Tally Clerks, and also from the Company's written statement in paragraph 10(a) that the usual practice with the shipping companies in general is that the Tally work is entrusted to Stevedores as their agent, who in their turn engage temporary men to work as Tally Clerks. But that is not the practice with this Company. The Company gets the Tally work done departmentally by its own Head Office establishment staffs. Of course, those who were employed as Tally Clerks are of the lowest order and possessed of the minimum qualification and in some cases not even the minimum educational qualification of an Office Clerk. It is in evidence of the Secretary of the Union which goes unchallenged that most of the Tally Clerks after crossing the efficiency bar have been transferred to work in some other capacities either as an Office Clerk or as a table staff working in the dock. It is also in his evidence that some orther Head Office assistants were transferred to work in the dock although they are attached to Head Office establishment. This witness who is an employee of the Company has stated that one Shri Sasanka Bhusan Majumdar who was serving as Accountant in the Head Office has since taken up his duty in the dock and one Shri J. N. Ganguli who was working in the dock has since joined the Head Office. Another employee Shri Dandapot, who was working in the dock, has since been transferred to the Head Office and is now working in the Stores Department. All these facts go unchallenged. Therefore, all the Clears including the Tally Clerks are included in the Head Office establishment of the Company and they are conveniently placed on duty sometimes in the dock and sometimes in the Head Office depending on the exigency of the situation and on the capabilities and efficiency of the staffs. The Tally Clerks employed by the Company although they discharge duties similar to the Tally Clerks engaged by the Stevedoes as agent of other shipping companies but their service conditions are quite different. It is in the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Deb Kumar Mukherji, the Secretary of the Union, who is also an employee of the Company, that the Tally Clerks are included in the establishment of the Company's Head Office located in premises No. 21, Old Court House Street, Calcutta-1, for the purpose of receiving their salary, increment, confirmation, leave, etc. Their service records are maintained in the Head Office. Their promotions depend upon the recommendations of their office boss who takes his seat in the Head Office. There is no separate department for the Tally Clerks and there is also no separate grade or scale for them, but they also are in the "C" Grade along with other Clerks working in the Head Office, and also in the dock as table staff therefore, for all practical purposes the Tally Clerks are the workmen of the Head Office of the Company. They are controlled from the Head Office in the matter of leave, transfer, supervision, promotion, etc. Therefore, the fact of their temporary employment as Tally Clerk in the dock does not materially change the position, and in such circumstances the State Government is the appropriate Government within the meaning of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, relating to the dispute which arose between the Company and its workmen represented by the Union. In this view I am fortified by the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court reported in A.I.R. 1959 Supreme Court 676.

Lastly, I may point out that the Company never before questioned the State Government's jurisdiction to deal with the dispute relating to the Tally Clerks Shri C. K. Gupta and Shri M. N. Dey. There have been various correspondences (Exts. C/6 and C/7) between the Labour Directorate of the State Government and the Company but the Company never questioned the State Government's authority. Obviously such objection was not raised because the Company was well aware of the true position of the Tally Clerks under its employ.

Therefore, in my view there is hardly any substance in the preliminary objection as to jurisdiction raised by the Company. In my considered opinion the present reference is maintainable in law.

Issue No. 1:

Now, I proceed to consider the main issue. First I take up the case of Shri Abani Kanta Dhani. Admittedly Shri Dhani joined service of the Company on 7th January 1949 as a Typist. He was confirmed in the post on 1st June 1949 (vide Ext. E). He is a Matriculate. He is in the Grade "C". He was drawing a monthly salary of Rs. 110 in addition to D.A. in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale and at this stage he was to cross the efficiency bar in order to earn the next increment of Rs. 5 which was due on the 1st March 1958. The Company by its letter, dated 30th May 1958 (Ext. A/4), with held the annual increment which fell due on 1st June 1958 on the ground that his work had been reported not to the standard warranting his crossing the efficiency bar and he was at the same time found very irregular in attendance and frequently late in coming to office. The Company expressed the hope that he would improve his work and attendance so that the Company could grant him the increment next year. Shri Dhani made a written representation (Ext. A/6) to the Company for reconsideration. But the Company, however, rejected his prayer (vide Ext. A/7). In the following year the Company also refused to sanction increment, or in other words, he was not allowed to cross the efficiency bar because there was no improvement of his work although there was a little improvement as regards his office attendance. His boss Mr. Luddy submitted a report (Ext. A/8) to the Management and thereupon he was not allowed to cross the efficiency bar even in 1959. However, later on Shri Dhani having shown sufficient improvement in his work as reported by his boss Mr. Luddy (vide Ext. A/10), the Management allowed him to cross the efficiency bar and he was allowed to draw the increment with effect from 1st June 1959 (vide Ext. A/11). Shri Dhani, as I have stated before, has been working as a Typist in the import Section of the Company and he was working directly under Shri S. K. Basu, whole immediate boss was Mr. Luddy who is the Steamer Agency Manager of the Company. Mr. Luddy was only acting on the report of Shri Basu as Shri Dhani was working under the direct supervision of Shri Basu (D.W. 2). This gentleman Shri S. K. Basu previously served as Secretary of the Union but he had to relinquish that post since he was promoted as an officer of the Company. Therefore, it may hardly be expected that as an ex-Secretary of the Union he will unnecessarily punish an employee by withholding his increment without sufficient cause. Of course, Shri Dhani has alleged for the first time at the hearing of the case that he had an altercation with Shri S. K. Basu towards the close of April or beginning of May 1958 when Shri Basu held out a threat to him and wanted to punish him by withholding increment. This story is disclosed by Shri Dhani for the first time on the 14th August 1961 although he had had enough opportunities to place this fact before the superior authority or even before his Union for adequate steps in the matter. But curiously enough this story was not disclosed either to his Union or in his correspondence addressed to the Company after his increment had been withheld. Ext. A/6 is a letter, dated 20th June 1958, addressed by Shri Dhani to the Company in which he has stated many things but not the alleged occurrence with Shri S.K. Basu which is unusual and inconsistent with ordinary course of human conduct. He placed his grievance before the Union of the workers and the Union took up his cause in right earnest and the Union wrote several letters to the Company and one of them is Ext. C/1, dated the 16th December 1958. But not a word has been stated regarding the alleged there if there was any, between Shri S. K. Basu and Sh Dhani. Therefore, from the above facts an circumstances I have no hesitation to conclude th that is a got up story and a second thought. Ther is no truth in it. D.W. 2 Shri S. K. Basu has give a stout denial to this allegation. I have no reaso to disbelieve the evidence of this gentleman wh previously serve as a Secretary of the same Union to safeguard the interest of his co-workers.

Excepting this wild allegation of Shri Dhani whcih was set up at the last moment there is no act of victimisation or unfair labour practice alleged by the Union. The Company could not grant him the increment after crossing the efficiency bar because the work of Shri Dhani was found very unsatisfactory and he was at the same time irregular in attendance and also he was frequently attending office late. Shri Dhani say that his late attendance was due to late arrival o trains on account of electrification of railways Shri Dhani in his letter (Ext. A/6), dated 20th June 1958, admits his late attendance but he says that his late attendance was due to introduction of electric train in 1957. His village home, according to him, is about 100 miles away from Calcutta, and he is in the habit of going home on every Saturday after office hours and joining his duties on the next Monday (vide Ext. A/6). But even long before 1957 he was warned for his late attendance and unsatisfactory work. This fact he has admitted in his cross-examination. So, the Company has rightly pointed out that he has been habitually late in attendnace. Shri Dhani wanted to justify his ıte attendance by saying that it was not due to is fault but it was due to reason beyond his ontrol and the reason as disclosed by him in his ɛtter (Ext. A/6) is the introduction of electric rain in 1957 and consequent dislocation of trains. 3ut he had to admit that in 1954, i.e., long before 1957 the Company issued a written warning for his ate attendance and unsatisfactory work. From ihe chart of late attendance (Ext. D/1), the correct- ness of which goes unchallenged by the Union, there would be hardly any room for doubt about his habitual late attendance. Not only he was ɔitually late to attendance, but at the same time was in the habit of absenting from duty without eviously obtaining leave or previous intimation the employer. He was in the regular habit of ısenting himself almost on every Monday or on e opening day immediately after holidays and he ɔwer intimated the Company in advance but he in the habit of asking for leave after his ıreported absence from duty. Exts. B to B/45 'e the series of his leave applications, of which a ıart (Ext. D) has been prepared yearwise. The ɔrrectness of this chart has not been questoined y the Union. Of course, in support thereof the pplications have been placed before this tribunal. t will be clear from these documents that Shri ani regularly absented from duty every month hout previously obtaining the leave or giving an imation to the Company. This would certainly an dislocation of work of the Company because is in evidence that there are two Typists only ıployed by the Company and each of them has en allotted specific works as will appear from t ? Therefore, Shri Dhani's absence from duty thout intimation to the Company would mean ɔt only dislocation of work but also accumulation business correspondence. The Company, as it ears, showed considerable goodness in granting ve to Shri Dhani all the time in spite of the mpany's dislocation of work. That does not essarily mean that Shri Dhani acquired the vilege of putting the Company to trouble. Shri ıani ought to have mended his ways to improve s attendance and to take leave before availing of It is quite natural that in view of his irregular late attendance his work was found very ıtisfactory and not up to the mark. So, there an adverse report by Mr. Luddy (Ext. A/8) and by Shri Basu as admitted by him. It is also r from the evidence of Shri S. K. Basu that ı Dhani paid no heed to his oral instructions advice. Even the written warnings of the nagement in 1954 (as admitted by him) and in 7 (Ext. A/2) fell flat on Shri Dhani who showed sign of improvement of his work and also of his endance till he was held up at the efficiency bar 1958. There was very little improvement in 59. The Company noticed some improvement early part of 1960 and immediately the any sympathetically dealt with his case and ed him to cross the efficiency bar with effect 1st June 1959. Had Shri Dhani showed some ɔvement of work in 1959 then the Company d have certainly considered his case and given the increment with retrospective effect from but unfortunately Shri Dhani failed to ove upon his work and attendance earlier the Company, in my opinion, is quite justified vithholding his increment from 1st June 1958 n other words, in refusing him one year's increment of pay. There is no mala fide on the part of the Company in withholding the increment at the efficiency bar, which fell due on 1st June 1958. It may be noted that the Union itself also found some justification for issuing a warning to Shri Dhani and advising him "to be more regular in attendance and accurate in work", as will appear from the Union's letter Ext. C/1, dated 16th December 1958, addressed to the Company. Therefore, I hold that the Company is justified in stopping the increment of Shri Dhani which fell due on 1st June 1958.

Next, I take up the case of the two Tally Clerks, namely, Shri C. K. Gupta and Shri M. N. Dey. It is undisputed that previously in 1949 there was an award given by the State Industrial Tribunal, by which the grades and scales of pay of the employees of this Company were fixed. That award was given on the 25th July 1949. Admittedly both the employees Shri C. K. Gupta and Shri M. N. Dey are in Grade "C." The previuos award will show that the Grade "C" is meant for clerical staff. Both the employees have reached the 13th stage of the grade and in order to get the next increment, which fell due on 1st March 1958, they are to corss the efficiency bar. The Company did not allow them to cross the efficiency bar on the ground that they were found unfit to assume responcible duties of supervision as a table staff. The Company has, of course, made it clear that their work in the present capacity has been found satisfactory but unless they are found capable of undertaking supervisory duties they cannot be allowed to cross the efficiency bar. Union's contention is that as their work in the capacity of Tally Clerk having been found satisfactory, they are entitled to earn the increment even at the efficiency bar. The Union, however, does not deny the fact that both the employees whose works as Tally Clerks have been found satisfactory but their work in any other capacity involving responsibility has been found unsatisfactory and both of them were found incapable of discharging any responsible job as a table staff. The Company has stated in paragraph 10(e) of its written statement that both of them were entrusted with some responsible duties of Boat Inspector and Receipt Clerk, but both of them failed to discharge the responsible duties entrusted to them. This fact is not denied by the Union or by the said two employees who have not come before the tribunal to give evidence. It is in the evidence of D.W. 1 Mr. Luddy, the departmental head of Shipping Section and who is in touch with the Tally Clerks, that one of the employees Shri M. N. Dey told him that he was unwilling to do any other job and he was quite happy in his present post. The two concerned employees did not make their appearance before the tribunal. The reason is best known to them or to their Union. It is not disputed that both the workmen are under-matriculates and they discharge the simplest work of putting tick mark against each item of cargo with reference to the list furnished to them. They have got no other duty of writing any report or register. They discharge the simple mechanical work of verification of the cargo by putting a tick mark against each item of cargo. That being the nature of the work they have got to discharge, they can hardly prove their efficiency by satisfactory discharge of mechanical and simplest work of its kind without requiring any brain or intelligence or education. It must be remembered they are in "C" Grade, which is meant for clerical staffs and according to D.W. 1 Mr. Luddy there are as many as 75 assistants in the "C" Grade and the 75 assistants include Office Clerks in different departments and table staffs working in the dock namely, Boat Inspectors, Ships Clerk, Receiving Clerk, Plan maker, etc., and including the Tally Clerk. Therefore, the tally clerks are the assistants of the lowest order included in the Grade "C" and according to the Company only those Tally Clerks who are found capable of taking up responsible supervisory duties of table staffs or of office assistants are allowed to cross the efficiency bar at the 13th stage of the grade and that has been the case almost in all the cases with the solitary exception in the case of Shri J. N. Ghose who has been after being allowed to cross the efficiency bar, still working as Tally Clerk, but that is no reason why the general policy of administration be deviated from by the management in each and every case. To deviate from the general policy of administration in exception cases is entirely within the discretion of the Company. The Union admits in its letter, Ext. C/1, the Management's power of internal administration and discipline. Therefore, if for reasons of administration the Management found it expedient to retain Shri J. N. Ghosh in the capacity of Tally Clerk even after he was allowed to cross the efficiency bar at the 13th stage of the grade, it is not for a tribunal to interfere unless it has been shown that gross violation of natural justice has been done by the Company. It will appear from the chart Ext. D/3 that almost all the Tally Clerks excepting Shri J. N. Ghosh were transferred to work in some other capacities after being allowed to cross the efficiency bar at the 13th stage of the "C" Grade. So, it is quite apparent that the Company allowed the Tally Clerks to cross the efficiency bar at the 13th stage of the grade, if and when they are found fit for taking up responsible jobs and capable of discharging supervisory duties as a table staff as mentioned in the document (Ext. 2). Both these employees were given opportunities to prove their worth but they failed to impress upon the Management. They could not write report. They could not do the work of supervision properly. They have not come before the tribunal to deny or dispute all these facts. Of course, D.W. 1 Mr. Luddy has stated that when his report was called for he recommended their next increment because he was under the impression that it was a departmental increment but when his attention was drawn to the fact that the said two employees were to cross the efficiency bar at the 13th stage of the grade, then he reported against them in view of the fact that both of them were found incapable of discharging supervisory duties of table staff. According to him they cannot write report. As Tally Clerks they have little to do by way of writing excepting the putting of tick mark which work requires little intelligence or education. They have also been found incapable of discharging responsible work of supervision as Ships Clerks or Boat Inspector and the like. Under-Matriculates as they are, they cannot write any report or maintain shipping documents.

Both of them as Tally Clerks are in "C" Grade and are having the scales of pay which is meant for clerical staffs as will appear from the award the year 1949 given by the State Tribunal presid over by Shri A. Das Gupta and Shri S. C. Chak varti. There is no grade exclusively fixed for Ta Clerks. They being placed in the grade of t clerical staffs by the award of 1949 there is ev justification for the Company to insist on so amount of efficiency in the shape of capacity write or ability to supervise, to work as a ta staff, on the part of the Tally Clerks when they to cross the efficiency bar at the 13th stage of Grade "C." Each of these two Tally Clerks is n drawing a monthly remuneration of nea Rs. 350 per month in all (vide Ext. D/2) althou they are not even matriculates which is minimum qualification of a clerical staff of Company.

So, there is good and sufficient reason for Company to withhold increment of these employees at the stage of the efficiency bar. Th is no act of highhandedness or of victimisation of unfair labour practice on the part of Company in refusing to allow them to cross efficiency bar. The workmen themselves do come forward to lodge their specific grievance, any, against the Company. They do not app before the tribunal to challenge or to dispute th inefficiency as specifically pleaded and found test and trial by the Company.

Therefore, upon consideration of all these f and circumstances I have no hesitation to concl that the Company is justified in not allowing S C. K. Gupta and Shri M. N. Dey to cross efficiency bar at the 13th stage of the Grade "C."

In conclusion I may, however, observe that award will not fetter the Company's discretion act in the interest of its administration in re sidering the cases of these old employees gesture of goodwill and sympathy.

This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Shri Kali Kinkar Mukherjee, Bus Owner, Village Kusum Jatra, P.O. Ahmedpur, district Birbhum, and his workmen represented by Birbhum Motor Workers' Association, P.O. Bolpur, district Birbhum (Case No. VIII-C-322 of 1959).

By order No. 6259-I.R., IR/4L-73/59, dated Calcutta, the 24th November 1959, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Shri Kali Kinkar Mukherjee, Bus-owner and his workmen represented by Birbhum Motor Workers' Asosciation, P.O. Bolpur, to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the matter contained in the order of reference.

Issue

Is the dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pathak, Bus Driver, justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

The case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows: –

Shri Hrishikesh Pathak, the workman mentioned in the order of reference, was a driver of the bus owned by Shri Kali Kinkar Mukherjee, the employer mentioned in the order of reference. That employer and other Bus owners of Birbhum district were depriving their employees of the minimum wages and weekly holidays fixed by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, and of elementary privileges, such as, annual leave, payment of overtime work, etc. The workmen engaged in the Motor Transport Industry in Birbhum district formed the Union mentioned in the order of reference in order to redress their grievances against the employers. The Union submitted a charter of demands to the employers. This enraged the employers who began to victimise their employees in order to disrupt the Union. The present employer, viz., Shri Kali Kinkar Mukherjee victimised the conductor and the cleaner of his bus by summarily dismissing them. With a view to get rid of the last member of the Union working under him the employer charge-sheeted the driver Shri Hrishikesh Pathak on 16th June 1959 on some false allegations, Shri Hrishikesh Pathak gave an explanation to the charge-sheet denying the charges. Thereafter the owner suddenly served a discharge notice on Shri Hrishikesh Pathak on 24th July 1959 containing some fresh charges against him; the owner did not hold any enquiry before issuing the notice of discharge. The owner thereafter stopped the plying of the bus by locking it, but did not take charges of the bus from the driver. So the latter was compelled to attend the bus with a view to protect it from any damage or loss for which he might be held ultimately responsible by the owner. The owner caused the arrest of the driver on 24th August 1959 while he was in-charge of the bus. The Union therefore contends that the dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pathak is unjustified.

The employer has raised a preliminary objection that the present reference is not maintainable in law, as the Union mentioned in the order of reference has no locus standi to represent the workman in the present adjudication. As to the merits of the case, the employer says that the allegations made by the Union in its written statement as to the non-implementation of Government order regarding minimum wages and weekly holidays and as to the denying of other privileges are irrelevant for the purpose of present adjudication. The facts of the case, according to the employer, are as follows:-

Shri Hrishikesh Pathak committed major misconducts and was served with a charge-sheeted on 16th June 1959. He was asked to appear at an enquiry regarding the charge-sheet; but he did not attend that enquiry though he was found moving about on the date of the enquiry; as a result the enquiry had to be held ex-parte. The charges against him having been fully proved, he was dismissed on 24th July 1959 by a letter of that date. On receipt of the letter of dismissal he fled away with the bus and so the owner could not get possession of the bus until 24th August 1959 when he got possession of the bus under an order of the local S.D.O. In the circumstances the employer contends that the dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pathak is justified.

Findings

It is on evidence that Birbhum Motor Workers' Association the Union mentioned in the order of reference is a general Union of Motor workers in the district of Birbhum. It is not a Union exclusively of the employees of Shri Kali Kinkar Mukherjee. It is however on evidence that Shri Hrishikesh Pathak, and Fazlee and Mahadeb, who had been dismissed a few months before the dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pathak are members of that Union. It is true that on the date of the dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pathak, Fazlee and Mahadeb were not employees of Shri Kali Kinkar Mukherjee. It appears from evidence that the staff in the bus on the eve of the dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pathak consisted of him as the driver, Shri Harapada Mukherjee, a son of the owner as the conductor and one Upadhaya as the assistant (clearner). It is also on evidence that Upadhaya was also a member of the Union. Naturally it cannot be expected that the conductor who is the son of the owner would be member of the Union. So the position was that on the eve of the dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pathak all the outside employees in the bus were members of the Union. The espousing of the cause of the workman by such a Union certainly converts the dispute into an industrial dispute, and such a Union is certainly entitled to represent the workman in any adjudication. So I hold that the order of reference is perfectly valid and that this is an industrial dispute.

I now enter into the merits of the case. The conduct of the driver or of the owner subsequent to the dismissal of the driver, i.e., subsequent to 27th July 1959 is irrelevant for determination of the question as to whether the dismissal is justified. So I do not try to ascertain the truth or otherwise of the two versions of the subsequent events. The question before me is whether the charges on which Shri Hrishikesh Pathak has been dismissed have been proved and whether such charges constitute a valid ground for dismissal.

The employer admits that the enquiry about the charge-sheet was held ex-parte. He says that the enquiry had to be held ex-parte, as Shri Hrishikesh Pathak neglected to attend the enquiry in spite of having received a notice to attend the enquiry. Ext. A(1) is purported to be a copy of that notice, but there is no evidence to show that such a notice was issued or was received by Shri Hrishikesh Pathak. On beahlf of the employer another notice has been made an exhibit [Ext. A(2)]. According to the version of the employer's side, this is how that notice was issued. On 3rd July 1959 Shri Hrishikesh Pathak along with some persons went near the house of Shri Kali Kinkar Mukherjee and abused Shri Sibapada Mukherjee, another son of Shri Kali Kinkar Mukherjee. Shri Shyamapada and Shri Chandi Charan Chatterjee, two co-villagers of Shri Kali Kinkar Mukherjee, happened to pass that way then. They intervened and suggested settlement of the matter. Accordingly they issued to Shri Hrishikesh Pathak a copy of Ext. A(2). Even if this version of the employer's side is believed, Ext. A(2) does not say that any enquiry would be held on 6th July 1959, the date on which the enquiry is alleged to have been held. In Ext. A(2) which is dated 3rd July 1959 Shri Hrishikesh Pathak has been informed that a talk would take place in the following evening for settlement. So there is no evidence to show that Shri Hrishikesh Pathak was informed of any enquiry to be held on 6th July 1959. So the ex-parte enquiry alleged to have been held on that day is vitiated as being in violation of the principles of natural justice. As there has been no proper enquiry before dismissal, the whole case is at large before me.

The allegation in the charge-sheet Ext. 1(j) issued to Shri Hrishikesh Pathak is that on 16th June 1959 he abused Shri Harapada Mukherjee in filthy language and that thereafter Shri Hrishikesh Pathak refused to hand over the key of the bus to the owner, though the latter asked him to do so. In the evidence before me the owner (O.P.W. 1) does not say that on 16th June 1959 he asked Shri Hrishikesh Pathak to hand over the key of the bus to him. There is no convincing evidence that c 16th June 1959 Shri Hrishikesh Pathak abused Sh Harapada Mukherjee in filthy language. It appea from evidence that what took place on that day that there was an altercation between the two ov plying of the bus and that Shri Hrishikesh Patha refused to comply with the direction of Shri Ha pada Mukherjee. Shri S. K. Bhattacherjee, appea ing for the employer, has tried to argue that this a misconduct on the part of Shri Hrishikes Pathak, as this is subversive of discipline. He seem to contained that as Shri Harapada Mukherjee is son of the owner, Shri Hrishikesh Pathak ought have taken his direction as the orders of the owne But he forgets that Shri Harapada Mukherjee is th conductor of the bus and that the fact that he is th son of the owner is immaterial in the prese circumstances. So by entering into an altercati with Shri Harapada Mukherjee or by refusing carry out his orders Shri Hrishikesh Pathak has n committed any misconduct. Shri S. K. Bhatt cherjee has referred to a number of decisions support of his contention that the dismissal of Sh Hrishikesh Pathak is justified. Most of these dec sions are beside the point in the circumstances the present case. Two cases which come near th facts of the present dispute are the cases of Rajendr Mills Ltd. before the Labour Appellate Tribunal an the case of Shalimar Rope Works before the Labou Appellate Tribunal. In the first case a workman wa dismissed for using filthy language to another work man. In that case that was taken to be a serio misconduct in view of the fact that the incident took place between the two co-workers belongin to two rival political parties and of the fact strife between the two organisations were not uncommon So using of filthy language in such circumstances was held to be likely to disturb the smooth working of the establishment. In the present case apart from the fact that using of filthy language by Shri Hrishikesh Pathak has not been proved, the circumstances of this case are entirely different from those of the case referred to above. In the case of Shalimar Rope Works it has been held that an incident between two workers would call for disciplinary action, as it was likely to disturb the peace and good order in the establishment. But in the present case Shri Harapada Mukherjee as the conductor was subordinate to Shri Hrishikesh Pathak as the driver. So if the incident of 16th June 1959 had any tendency to disturb the good order in the establishment, it is Shri Harapada Mukherjee who is responsible for it. So the decision in the case of Shalimar Rope Works is of no avail to the employer in the present case.

It is notable that in the letter of dismissal [Ext. 1(k)] it has been stated that Shri Hrishikesh Pathak insulted the owner (not Shri Harapada Mukherjee) on 16th June 1959. But no such allegation was mentioned in the charge-sheet, Ext. 1(j). There has been no evidence before me that Shri Hrishikesh Pathak insulted the owner on 16th June 1959. As a matter of fact, there is no evidence that the owner was anywhere near the place of incident on 16th June 1959. Two other reasons of dismissal mentioned in Ext. 1(k) are rash driving and canvassing in favour of the owners of other buses for picking up passengers. None of these reasons has been mentioned in the charge-sheet, nor has an atisfactory evidence been adduced before me in upport of these reasons.

In view of the above considerations, I hold that he dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pathak is unjus-ified. It appears from evidence that Shri Harapada Mukherjee is now the driver of the bus and that nother son of the owner is now the conductor. his clearly shows that the present financial con-lition of the owner is not sound. It would be harsh n him if he be forced to throw his son who is now he driver out of employment. Further it is on vidence that for some time prior to the dismissal f Shri Hrishikesh Pathak the relation between him nd the owner was not satisfactory and that the ormer had occasions to rub the latter on the wrong ide. In view of the above circumstances, I do not rder reinstatement of Shri Hrishikesh Pathak. I rder that the owner shall pay him a compensation f Rs. 1,000.

The above order shall be carried out within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

AWARD

By its order No. 4700-I.R./IR/11L-301/61, dated the 31st July 1961, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act an industrial dispute between Messrs. E.A.G. Minerals Supply and their workmen represented by the E.A.G. Minerals Supply Mazdoor Union, Calcutta-26, on the sole issue which runs as follows: "Whether the closure of the factory with effect from 15th June 1961 is bona fide? Whether the closure is beyond the control of the Management and whether in the circumstances it is justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

The Company filed its first written statement on the 11th September 1961 alleging, inter alia, that it was a small company employing only about 40 permanent workmen and it had to close down the factory because of constant labour troubles including subversive activities by the workmen culminating in certain notices by the workmen, namely, first that they would not do any overtime work and secondly that they would not work in the Gamaxene Department and also in the tampering with the electrical lines. In consequence of these activities the Company found great difficulty in running the factory and in fulfilling its obligations to its customers in dilivering the finished goods. The first notice of closure was served on the 10th of March 1961 but at the intervention of the Labuor Officer the time was extended thrice in the hope that the workmen would be more sensible but ultimately that hope was falsified and the factory was actually closed with effect from the 15th June 1961. In its second written statement filed on the 23rd September 1961 the Company made an additional point, namely, that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate whether or not the closure was bona fide or justified. This additional written statement also tried to contradict some of the statements in the Union's written statement. The Union filed its written statement on the 21st September 1961 denying subversive activities by the workmen and in alleging that they were within their rights not only in submitting repeated charters of demands but also in serving a notice that they would not do any overtime work unless the charter of demands was accepted and that they would not work in the Gamaxene Department. The Union also filed an additional written statement on the 4th of October 1961 stating, inter alia, that the Tribunal had jurisdiction to adjudicate on the question whether the closure was bona fide or justified.

On behalf of the management, only the Manager, Shri B. K. Dutt, was examined and on behalf of the Union only one workman, namely, Shri Panchanan Ghose was examined. A number of documents was proved on either side.

The facts, as far as they are beyond dispute, are briefly that the E.A.G. Minerals Supply was established by the late Mr. E.A. Gomesh more than 20/21 years ago and it is a mineral grinding Company. The Union was formed in abuot 1950 or 1951 and naturally the Union became the spokesman of the workmen and made from time to time different demands on the management regarding the betterment of the condition of service of the workmen. There were certain awards on the basis of certain agreements. The first of these awards is said to have been sometime in 1952/53. The award itself has not been exhibited but there is a memorandum of settlement in the presence of the Conciliation Officer and that is Ext. 2, dated 12th December 1952. Then there is an award of bonus, dated 23rd November 1954. This is Ext. 3. In 1955 there was another agreement and that is Ext. 1., dated 7th November 1955, a copy of which was sent to the E.A.G. Minerals Supply by the Labour Officer under a memorandum, dated the 11th November 1955. Then Mr. Gomesh sold the Company to the present proprietor Shri Sampat Rampuria sometime in 1957. After his purchase there was a fresh charter of demands and a reference was made on the 23rd April 1958, Ext. 4 being that reference. An award was made on the basis of a compromise the terms of which are as follows:

"(1) That the Company has agreed to give increase in wages at 12 nP. per day to each of the daily rated permanent workmen with effect from the publication of the award in the 'Calcutta Gazette' and to this workmen agree. There is no dispute in respect of monthly rated employees. (2) That the Union does not want any relief in other issues and accordingly the claims under these issues are not pressed. (3) The workmen undertake to work in normal manner in co-operation with the management." The compromise itself is dated 29th July 1959 and the copy of the award produced before the Tribunal does not bear any exact date. Presumably it was passed either on the 29th July 1959 or a couple of days later within the month of July 1959 because I find under the signature of the Judge the month and the year noted as follows: " -7-59."

On 9th March 1960, however, while this award was still in force the Union served a notice of termination Ext. 5 in respect of certain matters, namely, (1) Increment, (2) Gratuity, (3) Dearness Allowance, (4) Extra Allowance for the workers who work in the Gamaxene Department. Within 4/5 months of that award, at the instance of the workmen the management had to give the workmen a further increment of 13 nP. per head per day in order to make them work. There was a fresh charter of demands on 30th May 1960, Ext. and in the course of the conciliation proceedings arising from this new charter of demands the Conciliation Officer persuaded the workmen that the fresh charter of demands was not according to law and so the charter of demands was withdrawn. On 5th December 1960 the Union wrote to the management, Ext. 7, saying that the workers of the firm were not in a position to work overtime from 5th December 1960 until and unless the dispute regarding charter of demands was settled satisfactorily and a copy thereof was sent to the Chief Inspector of Factories. On 7th March 1961 the Union wrote another letter, Ext. 9, to the Manager saying that 10 per cent. chemical composition was now being mixed in the Gamaxene Department and so it would not be possible for the mistries to work their maintenance jobs because continuation of the work under the circumstances would impair their health very badly. After the notice, Ext. 7, dated 5th December 1960, the workers admittedly refrained from doing any overtime work and after the notice, Ext. 9, dated 7th March 1961, they refrained from working in the Gamaxene Department. Then on the 10th of March 1961 the management issued a closure notice, Ex. 10, giving details of what they regarded as the subversive activities of the workmen and telling the workmen that the management found impossible to run the factory with these refractory workmen and the notice was that the factory would be closed after one month, namely, from the 15th of April 1961. At the intervention of the Labour Officer the closure, however, was kept in abeyance up to the 15th May 1961 by another notice Ext. 11 dated the 12th April 1961, in view of certain undertakings given by the President of the Union for and on behalf of the workmen that the workers would not do any act subversive of discipline and other acts of misconduct stated in the notice and further, and that they would give normal production giving up the their go-solw tactics. By another notice, Ext. 14, dated the 13th May 1961, again at the intervention of the Labour Officer the closure was kept in abeyance for a further period up to the 15th June 1961. In between Ext. 12 and Ext. 14, i.e., between the 12th April and the 13th of May the management wrote to the Labour Officer a letter, Ext. 13, dated the 9th May 1961 saying that the position had not yet improved subversive activities still continuing in an unabated manner. It was further pointed out that besides various subversive activities, a new method had been adopted in recent times, namely, to make the electric lines out of order or defective for paralysing the Company's work. By Ext. 20, dated the 14 June 1961, the management notified for the information of the workers that the factory was being closed with effect from the 15th June 1961. In this notice the management gives a detailed account of the various subversive activities of the workmen which compelled it to close down the factory. There are ample materials on the record to show that the management kept the Labour Commissioner duly informed of the various unhealthy developments in the factory.

Whatever happened before the purchase of the concern by Shri Sampat Rampuria is not very material for the purpose of this reference and it is really immaterial for the purpose of this reference whether Mr. Gomesh sold the concern because he found it more and more difficult to carry on in view of the gradually worsening attitude of the workmen of the concern. The important thing is what happened after Shri Rampuria came on the scene. A charter of demands by the Union on behalf of a set of workmen is not by itself either wrong or unjustified in any way. But if such a charter of demands is made without any reasonable ground and at any time whether it is legally valid or not, it naturally tends to upset the plans of the management to carry on the business in its own way and according to its own rights. That, this Union at least sometimes made certain demands which were not justified and made them at a time when such a charter of demands was not legally valid would be clear from the terms of settlement on which the award was made in 1959. I have already quoted these terms of settlement in extenso. All that the Union got under these terms of settlement is an increase of 12 nP. per day to each of the daily-rated permanent workmen with effect from the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette" and the Union did not press any of the other issues and the workmen also undertook to work in a normal manner in co-operation with the management. The terms of settlement at once suggest that the issues which were not pressed were in all probability not justified and that the workmen were not working in a normal manner in co-operation with the management. A charter of demands made on 30th May 1960 was clearly not within one year of the award based on the settlement, dated the 29th July 1959. Under section 19(3) the award was in operation for a year, there being nothing to show that the Government had reduced the period of one year in this particular case. So long as this award was in force, clearly it was not open to the workmen to submit a fresh charter of demands and that is the reason why at the instance of the Conciliation Officer the Union had to withdraw the charter of demands. The Union's attitude towards the management is further exemplified by Ext. 5, the notice by which the Union seeks to terminate the award passed on the basis of the settlement, dated 29th July 1959. This notice, Ext. 5, is dated 9th March 1960, i.e., before the charter of demands, Ext. 6, was made. This was clearly an invalid notice because section 19 makes the award binding between the parties for one year from the date on which the award becomes enforceable under section 17(a), i.e., on the expiry of the 30 days' from the date of publication under section 17. About 4 5 months after the award of 1959 the company had to increase the wages of the workmen by a further 13 nP. per head per day in order to make them work. The Company brings this fact to the notice of the Labour Commissioner in its letter, Ext. 8, dated the 28th December 1960, in which it stated in paragraph 6 that after the last award increasing wages by 12 nP. per day to buy industrial peace which was hampered by the Union, the Company voluntarily gave a further increase in wages by 13 nP. per day. This voluntary character of the agreement is considerably weakened by the mention of the fact that industrial peace was being hampered by the Union. In other words, as the Manager says, this increment of 13 nP. per head per day had to be given in order to make the workmen work. In his cross-examination Shri B. K. Dutt says as follows: "We gave the increment of 13 nP. within 4/5 months of the award of 1959 not because we thought it was a legitimate increment but we were forced to give it in order to make them work as they were not working properly." There is nothing in the evidence of Shri P. Ghose against it and it is evident from Shri B. K. Dutt's statement and it is more than likely from the general attitude of the Union as far as one can make it out from the documents exhibited that even while the award of 1959 was still in force an increment of 13 nP. per head per day was extorted from the management by the Union. Then Ext. 7, dated 5th December 1960, is a declaration of the unwillingness of the workmen to work overtime from the 5th December 1960 until and unless the dispute relating to the charter of demands has been settled satisfactorily which evidently means to the satisfaction of the workmen. Mr. Banerjee who appears for the Company refers to a Single Bench Decision of the Madras High Court in the case between Sridharan Motor Service, Attur Industrial Tribunal, Madras and others 1959 I, L.L.J., 380. At page 389 the Learned Judge observed as follows: "The liability to be called upon to work overtime is an incident of various kinds of employment and an order is not illegal merely because it requires an employee to work overtime. When that happens, the employee is entitled to extra payment at certain enhanced rates. But he cannot refuse to work. It will be appreciated that the requirement of the law that overtime work should be paid for at higher rates is itself bound to deter the management from calling on its employees to do overtime work. In controversies of this kind it is as well to remember that the rights and obligations between the employer and the employees are mutual and reciprocal; the obligations are not all on one side and the rights on the other. Managements have to bear in mind that labour is not a a commodity like so many sacks of oats. On the other hand, labour has to remember equally distinctly that the management is not a sponge to be squeezed dry. The goose lays no eggs that is killed. Both labour and management have to remember that the general public are also affected by their internecine disputes." The refusal of an individual workman to work overtime would be condoned on different grounds but the concerted refusal of the whole body of permanent workmen in a factory is a matter which is more serious than the unwillingness of the individual workman to work overtime and naturally puts the management in a difficult situation. It is obvious that when a Union can serve on the management a notice like that its whole anxiety is not merely to secure the legitimate interests of the workmen but somehow to paralyse the management. In his cross-examination Shri B. K. Dutt says as follows: "We did not admit that the system of distributing the overtime work amongst the workmen was inequitable. If overtime work is needed in a particular department it is the workmen of that department to whom the overtime work can be distributed and not to other workmen. The overtime work was distributed amongst the workmen of the same department by rotation." In examination-in-chief Shri Panchanan Ghose says as follows: "Last year that is in 1960 there was a dispute between the workmen and the Company over the overtime work. The complaint of the workmen was when a machinery becomes defective the Company does not give overtime work to the man in charge of that machinery for repair of that machinery; instead Company gets other kind of work done under the overtime system of work." In his cross-examination he says first as follows: "For every shift there is a mistry in charge of the particular shift. Apart from him there is a mistry in charge of each machine. But at night and also by day a durwan is always left in charge of a machine. A durwan both by day and night is placed in charge of a machine. When the machine is being operated no permanent hand is kept in charge of it. But when a machine breaks down we are sent for and then we or permanent hands repair the same. When a machine is being worked the man in charge of it whether he be a durwan or a mistry has no further work to do beyond seeing the machinery work. It is the permanent mistries who operate the machineries and who also repair the machineries." Obviously therefore it is the permanent workmen who were responsible for repair and maintenance of the machinery as well as the operation of the machinery. It is also admitted by Shri P. Ghose that once a machinery is started the man in charge of it whether he is a durwan or a mistry has no further work to do beyond seeing the machinery work. That being so, it is open to the management not to require a machinery to be repaired beyond the working hours so as to give the man in charge of the machinery overtime. The question how overtime work should be distributed is connected with the question of priorities in the working of the factory and the determination of the priorities in the working of the factory is necessarily to be left to the management. If the management considers that it should consult in selecting workmen in the matter it may do so but there cannot certainly be any hard and fast rule requiring the management to consult its workmen as to how overtime should be distributed. The demand, therefore, put forward on behalf of the workmen does not seem to me to be at all a justifiable one. Consequently, when the workmen refused to work overtime by their letter Ext. 7, dated 5th December 1960, they took a step which by itself made the working of the factory difficult. When this was followed by Ext 9, dated 7th March 1961, and when after that letter the workmen actually refused to work in the Gammaxene Department it meant the closing down of that department. It has been argued that 10 per cent. mixture of Gammaxene was harmful to the workmen. Mr. B. K. Dutt was questioned in his cross-examination as to the chemical composition for mixing in the Gammaxene Department and his evidence is that varied from 10 to 50 per cent. But he could not say up to what point it would be harmless from the point of view of the health of the workmen and after what point it becomes harmful. He also says that the workmen in the Gammaxene Department were never allowed any extra remuneration or allowance. He says in his examination-in-chief that they had been doing the grinding work of gammaxene in their factory since 1946/1947. He made the statement in answer to the question as to what was the percentage of the mixture prior to the Union's letter Ext. 9, date 7th March 1961. Nor is there any evidence t show that as result of work in the Gammaxen Department the health of any one of the workme habitually working there sufferred in any way Even if it be assumed for argument's sake that ther was an increase of the percentage of the mixtur to a point which was harmful to the health of th workmen concerned though there is no evidenc whatever on that point, it is a matter the Unior should have first taken up with the management before sending a letter like Ext. 9 and forthwith stopping the working in the department. This is clearly an attempt on the part of the workmen to paralyse at least one department of the factory.

It is significant that Ext. 10, the first notice of closure, is dated only three days later.

The fact that the management at the instance of the Labour Commissioner put off the actual closure till the 15th June 1961 while according to the first notice it was to be closed on 15th April 1961 shows that the management was willing to accommodate the workmen to the extent of not givnig effect to their decision if in fact the situation improved as the President of the Union appears to have assured the management on behalf of the workmen that it would improve. This however was merely a hop both for the President of the Union and for th management. Things appear to have taken a tur for the worse when admittedly on the 2nd of Jun 1960 a number of workmen kept the Manager an others confined in their room in order to extort fron them their demand and the police had to be called in to rescue them. This fact testified to by the Manager Shri B. K. Dutt in his examination-in-chief is not challenged in his cross-examination Shri P. Ghose in his cross-examination admits the fact that the workmen kept the officers confined in the office room. There is thus no reason why the evidence of Shri B. K. Dutt should be disbelieved and if it is believed as I think it must it has got t be held that the workmen kept the Manager an others in wrongful confinement in an office room on the 2nd June 1961 till police rescued them. On behalf of the Union Shri Das argued that this was merely a peaceful demonstration. It may have been peaceful in the sense that no heads were broken. It was not certainly innocent activity for it was criminal. It is admitted by Shri P. Ghose in his cross-examination that it is a fact that at the service of the closure notice the electric installation frequently went out of order and th Ext. 19 is a charge-sheet which was issued again him. There were 2 3 other similar charge-shee against him on the allegation that he was deliber ately tampering with the electrical installation B to his knowledge no one else was served wit similar charge-sheet. Ext. 19 is dated the 4th Ma 1961, i.e., during the period when the first closur notice had been already served and the dat mentioned in the first notice that the factory wa to be closed with effect from 15th April 1961 ha already expired or in other words this charge sheet was issued against Shri P. Ghose during the first extension of the period intervening betwe the first notice of closure and the actual closu There was admittedly no enquiry into this proceeding. But the mere fact that the electrical install tion was going out of order so often together wi the other admitted and proved facts would go t suggest that in all probability the workmen had something to do with the electrical installation going out of order so frequently. The production chart Ext. 16(b) seems to be equally revealing. In August 1957 the production was 200 tons a month. In September 1958 it nearly reached 700 tons a month which was the maximum between August 1957 and September 1958. Then there was a steady decline and in October 1958 it went down to 500 tons a month. From that point there was an upward trend till in December 1958 it went up to 770 tons. Again there was a drop to 680 tons in January 1959 and thereafter there was a rise still in March 1959 it reached 750 tons. Then there was a very stiff decline till in June 1959 it reached the lowest level of 180 tons. There was again a rise till in August 1959 it reached 630 tons. There was again a drop and again a very slight rise up to October 1959 and there was a stiff rise thereafter till in November 1959 it reached the highest peak of production in this factory namely 920 tons. Then there was a steady decline with a slight rise then a decline and then a rise and from November 1960 there was a very stiff decline till on the 13th June 1961, two days before the closure production was a little above 100 tons a month. It is in evidence that five Pulverizing machines and one Jaw crushing machine had gone out of order about three months before the closure but that would not account for the very stiff decline since November 1959. As a matter of fact, as far as one can judge the developments in this factory from the materials on the record, it seems fairly obvious that the attempts of the workmen to paralyse the working of the factory in order to force the hands of the management to yield to their demands succeeded, so much so that the management had hardly any option but to close down the factory.

It has been argued on behalf of the Union first that the closure was not bona fide because the factory re-opend with effect from the 6th September 1961 and secondly that the last notice of closure was only one day ahead of the actual closure, so that there was no proper notice in accordance with the provisions of section 25F as section 25FFF requires. On the first point, Shri B. K. Dutt, the Manager, says as follows in his cross-examination: 'From the 6th September 1961 the Manager and the Assistants are going to the factory office regularly. We have not tried to operate the machinery or to cleanse the machinery in the factory through hired labour or through contractors' labour. The machines were never operated after the closure." The evidence on this point of Shri P. Ghose in his examination-in-chief is as follows: "The Company re-opened the factory with effect from the 6th of September 1961. The finished goods that were there were being delivered to customers and they were also getting the machinery repaired by outsiders. In getting the machinery repaired or getting delivery of finished goods they have not employed any permanent workers. They are getting the work done by outsiders." This evidence of Shri does not appear to have been challenged in his cross-examination. But the evidence of Shri Ghose or of Shri B. K. Dutt between which there is no inconsistency does not establish the fact that the factory was opened. Shri B. K. Dutt admits that the Manager and his assistants went to the factory office and he has denied that the machinery was sought to be operated or cleansed through hired labour or through contractors' labours. Even Shri P. Ghose does not say that the machinery was sought to be operated by any one. All that he says is that the finished goods were being delivered to customers and the management was getting the machinery repaired by outsiders. But the repair of machinery whether by outsiders or not does not amount to re-opening the factory, far less does the delivery of finished goods to customers constitute its re-opening. The first contention, therefore, fails on behalf of the Union that the factory was re-opened with effect from the 6th September 1961 as Shri B. K. Dutt says or from the 4th of September 1961 as Shri P. Ghose says, although from either the 4th or the 6th September 1961 the Manager and the assistants are going to the factory office and although they may have been giving delivery of their finished products to their customers and also probably repairing machinery.

As to the next contention regarding the invalidity of the notice of closure as required by section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act it is clear that the first notice Ext. 10 continued to be effective till the last because by the subsequent notices already referred to all that had happened was that the actual closure was kept in abeyance in the hope that the attitude of the workmen would improve and the last notice was merely to the effect that the expectation in which the closure was kept in abeyance had not materialised and the Company was forced to give effect to the notice of closure, Ext. 10, though three months later. Section 25F requires a minimum of one month's notice and no one is prejudiced, far less the workmen, by the Company giving a longer notice. Consequently there is no reason to hold either that the first notice, Ext. 10, had ceased to have any effect as soon as the date of closure was put off from time to time, or that there was no valid notice under section 25F. The first notice was valid up to the last and the only effect of the closure having been put off from time to time for three months was to give a longer notice than what section 25F requires. Thus there is no substance in this contention also advanced on behalf of the Union.

Thus, on the facts as found by me it must be held that the closing of the factory was not merely bona fide but fully justified. The question whether the closure was beyond the control of the management is a question which has to be decided on the principles laid down in Bhattacharyya Rubber Works (Private) Ltd. v. Bhattacharyya Rubber Works Union & ors. Vol. 64, C.W.N. 695. In this case His Lordship has approved of the view taken by the Tribunal that in order to bring the facts of a case within the proviso to section 25FFF, subsection 1, the management would have to prove that the undertaking was closed due to some circumstances which could not have been avoided and/or brought under a check or control and that the roll of the management in such a case should be more than that of a mere spectator and it was expected that the management should adopt measures to prevent such an eventuality, which a prudent man of business would do before he could claim protection of section 25FFF. He further pointed out that a decision on this issue must depend on the facts of each case and not on the caprice of an individual employer, because that would introduce a thousand shades of "unavoidable circumstances." The whole question according to him resolves itself to this, viz., whether this Company acted in a businesslike way, as a prudent man of business in similar situation would do, or it stood apart and adopted a negative attitude before closing down the undertaking. Then His Lordship goes on to say that "circumstances cannot be called 'unavoidable' if the employer, by acting in a businesslike way, or as a prudent man of business could avoid it. He is not expected to take a negative attitude. But at the same time, he is not called upon to make any unusual effort to avoid any particular circumstances, necessitating the closure of his business." Elsewhere His Lordship observed, "An employer is entitled to run his business in a normal manner. If there are emergent situations he is called upon to apply normal remedies. But he is not called upon to take extraordinary measures or incur extraordinary expenses in order to run his business in peace."

If these tests are applied to the facts of this case there is no doubt that the closure of the factory was a measure which was more or less forced upon the management by the attitude and the activities of the workmen of the factory in general and consequently it must be held that the closing down of the factory was due to unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employer. Consequently, the compensation payable to each of the workmen is limited to his average pay for three months.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri N. B. CHAUDHURI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri K. K. Maitra, Labour Adviser of the Company.

For the Union: Shri Parimal Das Gupta, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, order No. 1426-I.R./IR/11L-237/60 dated 1st April 1960, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Aminia Restaurant, 1 Corporation Place (Old Hindusthan Building), Calcutta-13 (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Calcutta City Eating and Refreshment Establishments Workers' Union, 249 Bepin Ganguli Street, Calcutta-12 (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The following issues have been referred to the Tribunal for adjudication:

1. Grades and scales of pay.
2. Duty hours and weekly off days.
3. Provident Fund Scheme.
4. Leave (Privilege, casual, sick, festival).
5. Tiffin.
6. Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?
   (a) Shri Md. Israil (Munshi).
   (b) Shri Md. Taiyab.
   (c) Shri Abdul Majeed.
   (d) Shri Abdur Rahim I.
   (e) Shri Abdur Rahim II.
   (f) Shri Abdur Rashid.
   (g) Shri Md. Mobin Khan.

The case of the workmen, in short, is this: The said Company is one of the first grade and high profiteering eating and refreshment establishment in Calcutta. Nevertheless, the workmen thereof are ruthlessly exploited by the Management, and they are denied minimum emoluments and other rights and privileges. The workmen are paid extremely insufficient wages, if considered in the light of the present day economic inflation. On the other hand the workmen are made to work longest hour without any recess or off. They are denied leave holidays with wages even in case of emergency, ness and festival occasions. They are also denied facility of free or cheap rated food or tiffin, ugh generally the workmen of such hotels and taurants are entitled to the same. There is no vident fund or gratuity scheme for the employees the present Company. In order to get their just vances redressed and to improve their condition, workmen formed a Union lately and submitted harter of demands before the Management. In ler to terrorise the workmen, the Company opted various unfair and unjust methods. The mpany victimised the workmen who were taking erest in union activities. In pursuance of this licy, on 20th December 1959 the Company was ing to replace some old workers with new hands. e workers sent a deputation to the Company in matter. But the Management not only refused meet the deputationists, but also charge-sheeted d. Israil, Md. Taiyab and four others, though they mitted no misconduct as alleged. These charge-eted workers submitted their replies to the rges levelled against them, but the Management nissed them arbitrarily without proper enquiry. Company again tried to appoint some notorious sons in place of a good number of old workers. workers peacefully protested against this high-idedness of the Management, and requested them to take such steps against the old workers. But Management turned a deaf ear to this request, charge-sheeted Abdul Majeed, Abdur Rahim I and Abdur Rahim No. II, Abdur Rashid and Mobin for such representation. They were missed later without any proper enquiry and hout giving any consideration to the replies mitted by the charge-sheeted workmen. All the rkers mentioned above were dismissed during the ndency of conciliation proceedings without obtain-any permission or approval of the Conciliation ficer under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes t. All attempts for conciliation having failed, the sent dispute has been raised.

As against this, the Company's case is as follows: first contention of the Company is that the sent dispute is not an industrial dispute at all. is also urged that the workmen of the present taurant are not members of the Calcutta City ting and Refreshment Establishment Workers' ion which is representing the workmen in the sent case, and as such the said Union can neither present the workmen of the Company nor raise industrial dispute. It is submitted that an plication was filed before the Conciliation Officer der the provisions of section 33(2) of the Industrial utes Act. But the Conciliation Officer referred matter to Government for reference without ng any decision on the said petition. This taurant, it is alleged on behalf of the Company, struggling very hard for its existence due to ncial difficulties and other reasons. After the mission of the said charter of demands, a section the workmen at the instigation of the Union ntioned above started various illegal activities ich led to the loss of the Company's business.

As regards wages and other benefits, it is urged t these facilities are quite satisfactory and pare favourably with what are being enjoyed by workmen of other similar restaurants. In view the present financial position of the Company it is not desirable that grades and scales of pay as demanded should be fixed at this point of time.

As regards leave and holidays, duty hours and weekly off-day, the Company is following the provisions of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940, and the workmen have no reasonable ground for agitation.

Regarding festival holidays, the Company contends that in view of the nature of the business carried on by this concern, the workers cannot be allowed to enjoy festival holidays specially on festive occasions, as visitors are expected to rush in on such occasions.

As to dismissed workers, the Company's contenten is that they were charge-sheeted for gross misconduct. Enquiries were also held according to law giving them all facilities for defending themselves. There was no contravention of the principle of natural justice during the enquiry proceedings. They were found guilty of the charges levelled against them, and accordingly the Management was compelled to dismiss them from service. The Company denies the allegation of mala fides or victimisation.

Other facts will appear from the body of the award that follows:

DECISION

Before I discuss the different issues of this case on merit, I shall consider certain preliminary objections raised on behalf of the Company regarding maintainability of the present dispute. It is urged on behalf of the Company that there is no industrial dispute existing or apprehended between the restaurant and its workmen. It is contended that the workmen of the present restaurant are not members of the Calcutta Eating and Refreshment Establishments Workers' Union, and as such the said outside Union has no locus standi to espouse the cause of the workmen of this restaurant. It is a fact that the workers of the restaurant concerned in this case are being represented in this dispute by the Calcutta City Eating and Refreshment Establishments Workers' Union. The membership of this Union is not restricted to the workers of this particular restaurant or industry, as the name of the Union indicates. This is an omnibus Union consisting of workers of different eating houses or refreshment establishments. So, the question arises whether the present Union has any locus standi to represent the case of the workmen of this particular industry. It is sought to be alleged on behalf of the Company that no worker of this particular restaurant is a member of the said Union. But from the evidences and circumstances on record, I find no basis for this contention. From the sworn statement of P.W. 1, Shri Dwijen Chakrabarty, General Secretary of the said Union, it will be clear that about 55 workers of this restaurant are members of this Union. From the Company's own list of workers marked Ext. G, it will appear that there are about 80 workmen in all in this Company, and if 55 out of 80 workmen are members of the said Union, it is difficult for me to hold that the Union is not sufficiently representative. It may be mentioned here that five out of the six issues relate to all the workmen of this particular industry. Issue No. 6 no doubt relates to 6/7 workmen only. But from the evidence led by the Company itself, it will be sufficiently clear that these 6/7 workmen mentioned in issue No. 6 were actually leaders of the workmen, and they were discharged on the alleged ground of leading other workers in doing certain unlawful activities. So, one can easily imagine that the case of these 6/7 discharged workmen also has got the support or sympathy of most or all the workmen of this particular concern. Be that as it may, the fact remains that the majority of the workmen of this particular concern are members of the Union which is conducting the case before this Tribunal. As the present dispute has got the support of the majority or a very large section of the workmen, the dispute must be treated as an industrial one, and not an individual one. It may be mentioned in this connection that the Company called for certain documents from the Registrar of Trade Unions also presumably for the purpose of showing that the Union has not the locus standi to represent the workmen concerned. But no such document as produced supports the contention of the Company in this respect. Furthermore, the Company called for certain documents and registers from the custody of the Union on 27th June 1961 (vide my order No. 25, dated 27th June 1961), and the Union was directed to file the said documents by my order No. 27, dated 28th June 1961. The Union at first objected to the production of these documents as called for by the Company, but the Company having insisted on their production, the Union was again directed to produce the same by my order No. 33, dated 28th July 1961. At last, the Union produced those documents called for on 21st August 1961 to show that a sufficient number of workmen of this particular concern were actually members of this Union at all relevant times. It may be mentioned in this connection that the Company at first showed very much eagerness for inspection of the said documents as called for, but when the documents were actually produced before this Tribunal, it lost all its zeal; and presumably it did not venture to look into them. The reason for it may not be very far to seek. I may reasonably presume that if those documents would come into evidence, they would not support the contention raised on behalf of the Company. In the face of all these facts and circumstances, I have no hesitation in saying that a large section of the workers of this particular concern were members of this Union at the relevant time, and that the present dispute has the support of the majority of workers of this particular industry. So, there is no substance in the Company's contention that the present dispute is not an industrial one. The Union in question has surely locus standi to represent the workmen of the present concern. The objection of the Company is accordingly over-ruled.

Now I shall consider the issues on merit one by one.

Issue No. 3

This issue is taken up first for the convenience of discussion only. It is urged on behalf of the workmen concerned that Provident Fund Scheme should be introduced, and the financial capacity of the Company is sufficient to bear the burden of such a scheme. At the time of hearing, however, this issue has not been seriously pressed on behalf of the workmen also, because the Central Government has already extended by a notification the provisions of Provident Fund Act to all restaurants and eating houses employing more than 20 men from June 1961. It is also stated on behalf of the Company that it has already received a notice from the appropriate authorities for introduction of such Provident Fund Scheme in their concern also. So, I think, I need not decide anything in that respect in the present case. All that I may observe is that the Company should carry out their statutory obligations in accordance with law. Subject to this observation the point is left open.

Issues Nos. 2 and 4

For convenience of discussion, I take up these two issues together. It is the contention of the workmen that they are made to work for unusually long hours every day and throughout the week without any off-day. It is contended that there is no rule or regulation for working hours, etc., and everything depends upon the whims of the Management. It is also urged that the workmen are being denied leave and holidays. On the other hand, the Company's case in this respect is that this concern as a restaurant is governed by the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940, in the matter of working hours, leave and holidays, and the Company has been following the provisions of that Act. There is no dispute between the parties that the provisions of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940 apply to such a restaurant as in this case. Section 2(5) of this Act provides that an establishment for public entertainment or amusement means a restaurant, eating house, cafe, etc. Section 9 of the Act provides for holidays in establishments for public entertainment or amusement. Every person employed in such a restaurant is entitled to 1[days holidays in each week. Similarly, section 10 of the Act provides hours of work in such establishments. Nobody can be made to work in such establishment for more than 10 hours in any one day. Section 1 of the Act provides for different kinds of leave admissible to the employees of such establishments including a restaurant. Every employee of a restaurant is entitled to 14 days' privilege leave on full pay after every 12 months' continuous employment, 14 days' sick leave on medical ground every year on half pay and 10 days' casual leave on full pay each year. The section provides for accumulation, etc., in its proviso. Thus according to the Act the workmen concerned are entitled to certain facilities as mentioned above irrespective of the question whether the employers like these or not. While the workmen's case is that they were getting no leave whatsoever previously, the Company's case is that they have been allowing leave and other facilities in accordance with the provisions of the said Act. Even now, the Company expresses its readiness to grant such leave and other facilities as provided for in the said Act. The learned Lawyer for the workmen concedes at the time of hearing that the workmen will remain satisfied for the present, if they get the privileges mentioned in the said Act, and the Company also has no objection to grant the same. At the time of hearing, the dispute is restricted to the question as to whether the employees of this restaurant should be allowed certain festival holidays also in addition to what they are entitled under the said Act. But, I may mention in this connection that the present Company runs a restaurant or eating house only. It has the largest sale usually on festive occasions. One can easily ne that people visit a restaurant or an eating

: more on holidays and festive occasions than ther working days or busy days. So, if a holibe declared for the restaurant on festive ions, the Company's business will suffer most.
o me it appears that for such an establishment, cannot be any festival holiday. So, my dered opinion is that the Company shall grant se holidays and other amenities as provided in Act, and the workmen concerned will be entitled to as of right. I do not think it desirable to e any scheme for additional leave or holidays he present. Issues Nos. 2 and 4 are decided rdingly.

he contrary, from a later award of Shri P. R.
herjee, dated 28th May 1952, in a dispute een Great Eastern Hotel and their workmen, it appear that the learned Judge found that the tem of supplying ration was a veritable apple rd, and both the employer and employees xious to do away with the system. So, to it appears that a Tribunal should not compel ployer to supply free meal or tiffin under circumstances. Such a system may, in some prove a source of constant trouble and between the parties for obvious reasons.
So, I do not think that the workmen can claim free tiffin as of right from their employer. Whenever proper wages are fixed by a Tribunal, surely the matter of food and tiffin and maintenance, etc., of the workmen are duly considered. A proper fixation of wages cannot but take into consideration the matter of food and shelter of the workmen. While fixing wages in this case also, I shall have to give such consideration to it as it deserves. Subject to this remark, the claim for tiffin is refused.

Issue No. 1

The case of the workmen is that the Company is denying even the minimum necessary emoluments to its workmen. So, it is urged that proper scales of pay for different grades or categories of workmen should be fixed. In this connection, the Union in its written statement suggests that a flat rate of increment of Rs. 10 should be allowed to all the workmen on their existing basic wages. It is further suggested that after introduction of suitable grades with suitable annual increment for all categories of employees, each employee should be fitted in the grade point to point according to the length of their service. On 20th October 1960 the Union gave a statement of different scales of pay for different grades of workers, and this statement is annexed to this award as Appendix A. In this connection, I may at once point out that though the workmen ask me to allow an ad hoc increment of Rs. 10 to all the workers over their existing basic wages, the fact is that the workmen themselves do not know what is the basic wage of this or that workman. To me, it appears that the workmen have only composite scales of pay, and basic wages, if any, were never separately treated or shown either by the workmen or the Company. So, it is difficult for anybody to accept the suggestion that a flat rate of increment of Rs 10 should be allowed over the basic wages of the different workmen. On the contrary, the Company files a statement showing the present composite scales of pay enjoyed by different workmen of this Company, and it is annexed to this award as Appendix B. This statement will clearly show that the workmen have been receiving consolidated wages only and basic wage was never separated from dearness allowance, if any, in respect of any worker. From an analysis of the statement filed by the Company, it appears that more than 50 per cent. of these workmen are getting wages at Rs. 50 or below per month. Only three of the workmen are getting Rs. 100 or above, and the rest of the workers are getting wages between Rs. 51 and Rs 90. From Appendix A mentioned above, it will be clear that according to the workmen the minimum wages of certain categories of workmen should be Rs 50 only. While suggesting these grades and scales of pay, the workmen have not separated basic wages from dearness allowance. Thus it appears as if the scale of pay should be of consolidated wages only. Be that as it may, let me now consider whether grades and scales of pay should at all be fixed in respect of the workmen of this particular Company, and if so, what should be the scales of pay. I may observe at once that the evidence adduced by the workmen in this connection is very much scrappy. Neither party has put in any clear evidence to show what scales of pay are prevelant in other similar and comparable establishments. The only witness for the workmen who speaks in this connection is Md. Israil (P.W. 2). His general complaint is that the workmen of this Company are ill-paid. He adds that the lowest paid workman in this Company gets Rs. 30/35 only. It is stated that the workmen of Society and Amjadia Hotel get meals and tiffin in addition to their normal wages. The real wages, it is alleged, of those workmen including meal and tiffin charges, will be higher than the total emoluments of the workmen of the present restaurant. According to this witness, in Amjadia Hotel the highest pay of a Hundiman is Rs. 45 and the lowest pay is Rs. 40 only. But in the present restaurant the highest pay of a Hundiman is Rs. 85 and the lowest pay is Rs. 55. In fact, this is all the evidence that has been adduced on behalf of the workmen in connection with the fixation of wages and scales of pay. I do not know how a comparison of the existing scale of pay of a Hundiman of this Company with that of the Amjadia Hotel improves the case of the present workmen.

However, before I discuss the matter of scales of pay, I must consider certain objections raised by the Company in this connection. It is urged on behalf of the Company that grades and incremental scales of pay should not be fixed in respect of the workmen of this Company in the present economic condition of the employer, as the employer is not in a position to bear any additional financial load. The Company's principal contention in this respect is that it suffered loss in the year 1959-60 ending 31st March 1960. From the profit and loss account coupled with the balance-sheet for the said year, it will appear that the Company suffered loss of Rs. 105.23 nP. only. It is not in dispute that this is a partnership concern, and in no previous year any balance-sheet or profit and loss account was prepared. The balance-sheet for the year 1959-60 was prepared sometime in October 1960 and filed in the present case. So, one can easily imagine that the present balance-sheet and profit and loss account were prepared for showing the financial condition of the Company in the present case. There is no evidence whatsoever to show that the present Company suffered loss in any previous year. Even in respect of the balance-sheet for the year 1959-60 which has been produced, it is not easy to say how far it is a bona fide one. The profit and loss account will show gross profit of Rs. 1,09,367.40 nP. Out of this gross profit, a sum of Rs. 41,000 and odd only was paid on account of salaries of the employees. Remuneration of two partners alone has been mentioned to be Rs. 9,600, and repairing and polishing charges for furniture, fixtures and fittings, etc., have been shown to be Rs. 22,878.6 nP. It also appears that the restaurant is housed in a rented house, and accordingly a sum of Rs. 15,361.50 nP. has been appropriated towards rent and taxes. Be that as it may, a close scrutiny of the profit and loss account may create some suspicion with regard to different items of expenditure. Of course, I am not unmindful of the fact that the accounts are said to have been checked by certain Chartered Accountants, and the balance-sheet and the profit and loss account have been prepared by such Accountants. In any case, to me it appears that business carried on by the present Company is not likely to be a losing concern under the existing circumstances. So, the claim for fixation of grades and scales of pay cannot be rejected outright, simply on the alleged ground that the Company has incurred a loss of Rs. 105 and odd in the year 1959-60. The invested capital of the different partners is not very high, and I have already mentioned that two of the working partners drawing more than Rs. 9,000 as remuneration besides business profits, if any. I have also rea to believe that the Company has sufficient scop economy under certain heads of expenditur detailed in the profit and loss account. So, considered opinion is that the financial conditio the Company may not be as good as desirable, yet it does not surely stand on the way of fix of reasonable scales or at least revision of pay its workmen. Moreover, I may also mention certain categories of workmen are being paid w even below the subsistence level. In the pre economic condition of the country, the emolument of Rs. 35 cannot be held sufficient any adult workman. So, there is no escape fr the conclusion that revision of scales of pay certain types of workmen at least is unavoidal If the Company thinks that it cannot bear additional load of expenditure, I may simply obse that in that case it has no right to exist. Minim wage is payable to every workman irrespective the question of paying capacity or econom condition of the employer. But unfortunately fo me, as I have mentioned above, the workmen h no much data to supply to this Tribunal for fixa of grades and scales of pay. As regards grade different categories of workmen, it will appear fr both the Appendices A and B that the two differ parties classify the workers in two different w In Appendix A, the workmen have mentioned categories of workmen and suggest different sca of pay for them. On the contrary, the Company its statement marked Appendix B has divided t workmen into five classes only on a differe principle. Moreover, this Tribunal has no sufficie material before it for evaluating the job of different classes of workmen. In the abs proper material, I can neither accept the gr suggested by the Union, nor classify the worker the way done by the Company in its statem marked Appendix B, for my purpose of fixation scales of pay. In this connection, I may refer certain awards made by different judges in resp of certain other hotels and restaurants of Calcu In none of those cases, the learned judges tried classify the workers in the way suggested by Union or the Company. The earliest award ref to me in this connection is of Shri P. R. Mukh in a dispute between Great Eastern Hotel and workers published in the "Calcutta Gazette", d 4th May 1950. At the relevant time, this hotel about 600 employees, and the Company used provide free ration, accommodation, electric price of medicine, laundry charges, cost of mend linens to its workmen. The learned Judge divid the workmen other than clerks in three categor only, presumably following the principles Engineering Awards, and they were classifi skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled. The scale basic wages for these three categories of empl were fixed at Rs. 50-3—81, Rs. 35-1-50 Rs. 30—1-35 respectively. No separate dear allowance was allowed to these workmen, beca they were already enjoying free ration accommodation, etc., as mentioned above. H ever, the value of free ration, etc., was roug assessed at Rs. 25 only per month. The cl employed by this hotel were divided into two gra Grade A was in respect of graduate clerks, and scale of pay for them was fixed at Rs. 80-6- (E.B.)-6-240, and the rest of the clerks were in Grade B, and their scale of pay was fixed at Rs. 60—4—100(E.B.)—4—140. The clerks were allowed separate dearness allowance at different rates as shown below:

	Dearness allowance allowed.
Up to basic pay of Rs. 50 ...	25
Basic pay from Rs. 51 to 100 ...	35
Basic pay from Rs. 101 to Rs. 150 ...	40
Basic pay from Rs. 151 to Rs. 200 ...	45
Basic pay above Rs. 200 ...	50

Similarly, Shri P. R. Mukherjee, Judge, in on award in the case between Grand Hotel and their employees published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 14th September 1950, classified the workers into three categories only as skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled, and the scale of pay for them was similar to that of the same categories of workers of Great Eastern Hotel as mentioned above. In this connection, I may point out that the publication shows as if the scale of pay fixed for the skilled workmen was Rs. 50—1—81. I am afraid, the rate of annual increment of Re. 1 is a misprint for Rs. 3, and the scale of pay intended for them may really be Rs. 50—3—81. In this hotel also, the workmen used to enjoy the benefit of one or two principal meals, and the value of two principal meals was assessed at Rs. 25 only. The learned Judge allowed dearness allowance of Rs. 30 at a flat rate in respect of all categories of workmen except those who were below 16 years in age. The workmen below 16 years were allowed only 75 per cent. of the said dearness allowance. The workmen were however to draw Rs. 30 less the value of meals they used to enjoy. If, however, tips and value of meals taken together would exceed Rs. 30 no dearness allowance was ıle payable.

From an award of Shri J. N. Maitra in respect of dispute between Great Eastern Hotel and their ıployees published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated th March 1956, it appears that there was a ference for revision of pay and dearness allowance respect of the employees concerned on the ground some anomalies and other difficulties in actual eration and execution of the previous awards in spect of this Company. The learned Judge made me minor adjustments to previous grades and ales of pay.

In an award by Shri K. K. Mitra in respect of a spute between Messrs. Karco Restaurant of Hogg larket and their workmen, the learned Judge made o attempt to classify the workmen into different ategories or fix any specific scale for them. The orkmen of this restaurant were receiving onsolidated wages, and this system was allowed to ontinue. The learned Judge, however, fixed ninimum wages at Rs. 65, and some ad hoc ncrement only to existing wages was allowed. This restaurant used to supply tiffin to their workmen. the value of such tiffin was assessed at Rs. 15 month, and this amount was adjusted towards es. This restaurant had only 46 workmen.

rom the awards discussed above, it will appear t different Tribunals made an attempt to fix tain grades and scales of pay in respect of work- n of bigger establishments like Grand Hotel and at Eastern Hotel. It appears from the argument of the learned lawyer for the Union that some sort of scale might have been fixed by some Tribunal for the workmen of Firpo's Restaurant also. But nothing has been placed before me in respect of any such fixation. All that I can observe is that Firpo's restaurant is a much bigger establishment than the present Company. On the contrary similar restaurant like Karco Restaurant has no grade or scale of pay fixed by the Tribunal. So, it is for me to consider whether I should fix any grade and scale of pay as prayed for in the case of the present restaurant. But I may point out that an attempt to fix grades and scales of pay in respect of the workmen of the present restaurant is fraught with various difficulties. The workmen of the present restaurant are now getting consolidated wages, and there is no sufficient material or data before me to apportion out of the existing wages the basic wage and dearness allowance, if any, included therein. Shri P. R. Mukherjee in fixing the scales referred to above divided the existing wages in the ratio of 3 to 1 for finding out the basic wage and dearness allowance. In other words, 75 per cent. of the existing wage was treated as basic pay and the rest 25 per cent. as dearness allowance. Further revision, if any, was based on such apportionment. But to me it appears that this arbitrary apportionment results in lots of anomalies as pointed out by Shri Maitra in his award. So, I think, I should not make any such attempt in the present case. Moreover, I have already pointed out that the financial position of the present Company is not very sound to permit fixation of liberal scales of pay as demanded by the Union. It may also be pointed out that the Union wants me to fit different workers in the grades, if any, to be fixed according to the length of their service. But I may at once observe that the Union has made no attempt whatsoever to prove what is the length of service of this or that of a particular workman. There is nothing before this Tribunal to show when a particular employee was appointed and on what initial pay. The nature of duties of different workman does not permit me to make any precise classification of them for the purpose of fixation of scales of pay. Shri P. R. Mukherjee tried to classify the workmen on the principle of skill. But this standard of skill cannot be helpfully applied in the case of the restaurant workers where individual intelligence and alartness of mind are the principal factors except in the case of cook and bread-makers who might have some specialised training. Furthermore, I have already pointed out that the present case suffers from the paucity of evidence in certain respects. The Company designates certain employees as supervisors, but the Union has no designation for them, and it is not known whether they should be treated as clerks or a different class of workmen. Similarly, the Company mentions certain employees as Munshis. But it is not clear in evidence if these Munshis are eligible to be called as clerks or operatives or menials. So, in the face of all these, uncertainties, I am afraid, it will not be proper on my part to fix any grades and scales of pay either on the principle of skill or in the ways intended by the Union or the employer. In view of all these difficulties and other circumstances, my considered opinion is that for the present no attempt should be made for fixation of grades and incremental time-scales of pay. I think, I should fix the minimum wage of a workman and allow some ad hoc increments to different classes of workers to adjust and ensure equity amongst them.

In this view of the matter, it is for me to say what should be the minimum wage in respect of the workmen of the present restaurant. From the grades suggested by the Union, it appears as if for certain classes of workers the minimum wage of Rs. 50 is considered sufficient. On the other hand, as I have pointed out above, in the case of Karco Restaurant Shri K. K. Mitra, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal, considered Rs. 65 to be the proper minimum wage for such restaurant workers. I may also mention that it is not clear from evidence adduced by the parties, if any class of workers of this restaurant does actually get any tips from the customers. In the absence of any evidence to that, I cannot but presume that there is no system of tips for the workers in this restaurant. Nevertheless, considering the circumstances and the respective cases of the parties, I think Rs. 65 will be too high as minimum wage for the workmen of the present restaurant. My considered opinion is that Rs. 50 only should be the minimum wage for the workmen of the present Company. So for fitting and adjustment, I direct that all workmen whose present pay is Rs. 45 or less should be pulled up to Rs. 50, and the workers who are getting at present more than Rs. 45 should get an increment of Rs. 5 only at a flat rate. Furthermore, the question of granting any further increment to the workmen is left to the discretion of the Management. The issue is decided accordingly.

Issue No. 6

The question is whether the dismissal of the several workmen named in this issue is justified. The issue refers to seven workmen. But at the time of hearing, the matter of Abdul Majid has not been pressed by the Union or any other worker. Abdul Majid also has not appeared before this Tribunal at the time of hearing. It is conceded by both the parties that there is no longer any dispute in respect of the dismissal of this Abdul Majid. So, without further discussion, I find that there is no longer any dispute in respect of this workman.

Of the other six workmen, Md. Israil and Md. Taiyab stand on the same footing and fall in one group, as the charges against both of them were same or exactly similar. The other four, however, fall in a different group as the charges against these four were exactly identical. So, I should consider about them group by group and discuss about these two groups separately.

Md. Israil and Md. Taiyab: These two workmen along with several others were charge-sheeted on 21st December 1959 in connection with an alleged misconduct on 20th December 1959 [vide Ext. 3(a)]. The substance of the charge against them is that they took leading part in inciting majority of the workers to resort to stay-in strike without any justification or without any prior notice; that they showed threatening and violent attitude towards the partners and officers of the restaurant; and that they all combined and resorted to various illegal activities, viz., shouting, threatening, defying the orders, abusing and using filthy language towards the Management. The workers submitted their written replies to this charge [vide Ext. 3(b)] and their reply also was same or identical. Their reply was more or less a denial of the charge. But they added that there was some excitement amongst the workers when the Management all on a sudden attempted to replace old hands by new ones. It was contended that the act of the Management was itself provocative and so the agitation in the mind of the workers was only very natural, and that they gathered together to discuss the issue that concerned their bread; and that the difficulty in the matter of serving customers arose because of the attempt to get the work done by absolute novices.

Thus from what I have mentioned above, it will be clear that while according to the Management the charge-sheeted workers took recourse to various acts of indiscipline without any reason or justification; according to the workmen there was a simple commotion on account of the Management's unreasonable attempt to replace old hands by new ones. Hence, it can be easily imagined that there was some excitement and commotion at least amongst the workers on the relevant date and that they gathered together somewhere in the restaurant premises in this connection. The workmen were employees of a restaurant or eating house visited by customers. So, any indiscipline on the part of the workers is likely to affect the business of the restaurant and cause annoyance to persons who come to eat there against payment. Such conducts of the workers are likely to put the restaurant to disrepute also. So, one can easily imagine that the principal duty of the Management was to maintain discipline amongst all the sections of the workers at any cost, and the Management may legitimately claim high order of discipline and smooth work from the employees while serving the customers. But from the reply itself of the workers, it is clear that not only there was excitement amongst the workers on that day, but there cropped up some difficulty in serving the customers also. So, it must be seriously looked into who was really responsible for the alleged act of indiscipline, if any. If the worker really stopped work or gave up their normal work at different posts for any purpose and gathered at a place for putting their heads together, the business of the restaurant did certainly come to a standstill for the time being. If this sort of situation was not a creation of the Management, no owner of a restaurant can view such a conduct on the part of its workers with equanimity. So, it is only natural that both sides will try to fix the responsibility for the incident of 20th December 1959 on the shoulder of the other side. So, before adjudicating on the merit of the issue, I must try to fix the responsibility in this respect. The workers' case is that the Management attempted to replace old hands by new ones and thus gave them the first provocation and hence they got agitated over the matter. So, the evidence on the point must be scrutinised, and it must also be seen what is the finding of the domestic Tribunal on the point and whether there are materials to support the Management's conclusion in this respect. I have gone through the evidence recorded by the domestic tribunal on the point, and it is difficult for me to say that the responsibility for the incident must go to Management and not to the workers. Md. Israil's statement before the Enquiring Officer was that the Company had recruited 15 outsiders to work and so the workers concerned prevented them from working in the restaurant. It was further alleged by Israil that "some of the new recruited workers were posted as table boy, some in the kitchen and at tea supply and as table mate. But his witness Md. Mobin Khan stated that he had seen Sahab (somebody of the Management) to iit new men to work. He said, however, that gh about 20 men were recruited, only one man ally worked from 3 p.m. on the relevant day, the rest simply remained sitted in the kitchen 9 p.m. But the other charge-sheeted worker Taiyab's version before the domestic tribunal , that only one man was recruited as a Boy and many more men had come to be taken into loyment and they were sitting in the kitchen. is it will not be correct to say that new hands e actually being recruited to oust the old hands a motive. Md. Amin's evidence on the point clear enough to show that on the entreaties of ther worker one Imanuddin alone was temporarily ointed for giving a trial, and he alone worked on t day. One cannot forget that the Management perfectly within its rights to appoint a new man en it thinks fit, and this alone should not have sperated the old workers to take law in their n hands and prevent him for doing such work as signed by the Management. There is not an iota evidence to show that anybody was discharged r making room for this new man. It is simply ged that the Management held out threats to smiss or discharge some. But I am unable to tach any importance to this allegation of threat. any one would have been actually discharged rongly, the workers would have some justification r moving against the action according to law. But am afraid, in fact, there was no such action. imply because one man was added to a restaurant mploying about 80 100 workers, it cannot be resumed that the Management did anything wrong vith bad motive. The workers admittedly put up tain demands previously before the Management, the Management failed to concede the demands them. So, this simple matter of appointment of ew man was used as a plea only for kicking up ow and trouble and starting an agitation against Management. The workmen had no right to e their nose into the Management's action of king a new appointment, if found necessary, so g their pay and work were not affected. Yet the t is that the workers did it and protested too uch with violence and stoppage of work. So, the sponsibility for the incident on 20th December 959 falls squarely on the delinquent workers and ot on the Management. So, whatever be the ctual nature of the incident on 20th December 959, the responsibility for the same goes to the rs. I have already shown that some sort of nt is admitted by the workers also. But the gement's charge goes further. The charge- speaks of stay-in strike, threatening and nt attitude towards the partners and officers also use of filthy language towards the Manage- t. There was a domestic enquiry on this charge several witnesses were examined on both sides. ve gone through the evidences recorded by the estic tribunal, and the finding of the Enquiring cer. The finding is that the charge has been blished against both Md. Israil and Md. Taiyab. nay simply observe that the evidence adduced by Management, if believed, has sufficient materials warrant such a conclusion. The workers stopped rk during working hours, gathered in a body and ok insolent attitude and behaved improperly also ith the Management. Md. Israil and Md. Taiyab ok leading part in this connection. Under the mstances, I think, I have no sufficient reason to fere with the action of the Management. I do after all sit in appeal over the judgment of the Management, nor am I intended to judge the finding of the domestic tribunal by the standard of proof in a criminal case. Charge-sheets were duly served, and the workers submitted their replies to the charge. They were given notice of the date of enquiry. They actually attended the enquiry and were given every opportunity to defend themselves and examine witnesses, in their support. In fact, the workers examined some witnesses also. It is alleged on behalf of the workers that the entire statement recorded by the Enquiring Officer was not written in their presence. Md. Israil tries to say before me that he signed his statement, but only the first six lines were there when he affixed his signature. The Enquiring Officer—Md. Siddique—swears that the entire statement was recorded before Md. Israil put his signature. I have looked into the enquiry proceedings and I am unable to accept the contention of Md. Israil in this respect. Md. Taiyab has not examined himself at all. It is next urged that enquiry, if any, on this charge was held in the presence of workers on one day only. But the evidence of the Management and the Enquiring Officer is that the charge-sheeted workers were present on both the days and throughout the enquiry proceedings. I have carefully considered this allegation also, and I am unable to place reliance on workers' version on this point also. I refuse to believe that the Enquiring Officer refused to examine the witnesses cited by the workers. So, I am unable to find that there was any violation of natural justice at the domestic enquiry or that the finding was perverse. I am also unable to believe that the charge sheets were issued simply with a mala fide motive for victimisation as alleged. Both sides have adduced evidence on the merit of the charge even before this Tribunal, and I may simply observe that even before this Tribunal there are sufficient materials to warrant a conclusion drawn by the Enquiring Officer and the Management. The present evidence of the workers is discrepant with their former case and evidence. Non-examination of the Police Officer or Constable before the domestic tribunal does not by itself derogate from the importance of the domestic tribunal finding in any way. The act of indiscipline and threat of violence went so far as to compel the Management to send information to the Police also. Some of the Police Officers have been examined before this Tribunal also. Thus after carefully examining all the aspects of the case and scrutinising all the evidences on the point, I find that no sufficient case has been made out for my interference with the Management's order of dismissal in respect of Md. Israil and Md. Taiyab. I have considered the case of both of them individually and separately, and I think, there is no reason for treating them differently.

Abdur Rahim I and II, Abdur Rashid and Md. Mobin Khan: Like the other two workmen, these four workers also were charged together for the same offence. Two different charge-sheets were issued against them. One charge-sheet was issued against them on 23rd January 1960 in respect of an alleged incident on 22nd January 1960, and one on 24th January 1960 in respect of an alleged incident on 23rd January 1960. The charge levelled against them on 23rd January 1960 was that they in a concerted manner and in a body interfered with the work of the Manager, shouted at him, threatened him and insulted him by saying that they would teach him a good lesson [vide Ext. C(e)]. The charge levelled against them on 24th January 1960 was that they took leading part in organising and fomenting an unlawful assembly inside the restaurant on several occasions on 23rd January 1960 simply on the ground of appointment of a new durwan and non-fulfilment of the charter of demands, and that they had shouted, threatened and abused the Management in filthy languages [vide Ext. 3(f)]. These four workmen jointly submitted their replies to the charges. They denied the charges levelled against them. In respect of the charge, dated 23rd January 1960, they further alleged that on 22nd January 1960 the partner—Mr. Amin—had brought some hired goondas and that the goondas on his instruction abused the workmen in filthy language to provoke a clash. In this reply to the charge, dated 23rd January 1960, the workmen further added "I (presumably meaning each one of the four charge-sheeted persons) could not understand why you (Md. Amin) have not included your own name in your letter while you were also present at that moment when the goondas inflicted insulting and provocative and filthy language to me/us" (vide Ext. B-1). In reply to the charge, dated 24th January 1960, it was contended by the workmen that the Managing Partner brought an unsocial person on 23rd January 1960 who attempted to irritate and provoke the workers (vide Ext. B).

Thus from what I have said above, it will be clear that the workers denied the charges and at the same time alleged that the Management gave them serious provocation by indenting goondas and unsocial person from outside, and that the workers simply refused to be provoked and thus kept calm. Thus the facts are in dispute, and the evidences must be examined in this connection before any definite conclusion is formed. However, I cannot but refer to a part of the reply (to the charge-sheet, dated 23rd January•1960) which I have quoted in extenso above. From the language of the reply above, one can easily see that the workers have hardly any respect for the Management. Mr. Amin is personally attacked in offensive language. The very tone of the reply betrays the inner mental workings and attitude of the workmen against the Management, and I am afraid this mental attitude was alone responsible for the unpleasant situation, acts of indiscipline and misconduct, if any, as mentioned in the charge-sheets and also for the later criminal allegations which ended in conviction of several workers including these workers by the criminal court.

Be that as it may, it may be pointed out that there was a domestic enquiry in respect of these two charges also and both the sides examined witnesses in support of their respective contentions. I am satisfied that the workers were given full opportunity to defend themselves, cross-examine company's witnesses and examine witnesses also in support of their own contention. The main allegation of the workers in respect of the incident of 22nd January 1960 was that some hired goondas were brought by the Management on that day for abusing and insulting the workers. But the depositions of the charge-sheeted workers and their witnesses before the domestic tribunal will show that this allegation is baseless. Abdur Rahim No. I simply makes an allegation of recruitment of a new man on that day, but speaks of no such pack of goondas. Abdur Rashid also did not speak of any such goonda-people nor did he hear any abuse by any such goonda element. Abdur Rahim No. II spoke of 2/4 goon roaming about in the hall and kitchen of restaurant. But he also did not allege that th alleged goondas assaulted or abused anybody. Mo Khan did not see any goonda on that day. Thus, this vital allegation also, no two workmen rea agree. I am afraid, there is no basis for the allegati that the Management brought hired goondas on 22nd or any day for assaulting or abusing any work On the contrary, the evidence is that during temporary absence of Munshi Habib Ansary who h gone to Mosque to say his prayer, one Gol Mohammed was deputed to carry on the work Munshi Habib till his return. This choice w perhaps not to the liking of the leaders of the troub and they went to the Manager Md. Haroon in threatening and violent attitude and made insulti remarks. Md. Haroon was compelled to remo Golam Mohammed from the seat. This attitude the part of the workers cannot be supported anybody and it was too much for the workers interfere with the action of the Management at ever stage without any justification. The frayed tempe of the workers especially their leaders on account o the alleged unbending attitude of the Managemen and prior disciplinary actions against certai workers was perhaps the real reason for thi disorderly conduct on the part of the workers con cerned. But these disorderly conducts subversive o discipline cannot be justified on that ground.

As to the incident of 23rd January 1960 also, it appears that the same frayed temper was primarily responsible for the repeated troubles and demonstr tions including threats, abuses and shouting by a assembly of the workers evidently under the leader ship of the charge-sheeted workers. One can easil imagine that the continuous trouble during previou few days possibly led the Management to appoin a new durwan evidently for security reasons. Bu the very presence and sight of a new durwan at the gate was not liked by the workers and they got exasperated and insisted on his removal. The Management had to send for Police for maintaining peace. I have gone through the evidences adduced by the parties in this connection before the domest tribunal and I may simply observe that there a sufficient materials to support the charge levell against the delinquent workers. There is no sufficien evidence to prove that the durwan was really a unsocial element and that he misbehaved with an worker at any stage. The Management late withdrew the durwan from the main gate on accoun of the demonstrations of the workers, and posted him at the office gate and yet the workers did not stop. They wanted the durwan to be removed from the office gate also. To me, it appears that the worker attitude in respect of this durwan-appointment als was highly unreasonable. The disorderly conduc in this connection cannot be supported by any reasonable man. Both parties have adduced voluminous evidence on the point at issue before this Tribunal also, and I may simply point out that the evidence adduced before me also shows that t workers made violent demonstrations and indulg in violation of ordinary rules of discipline on accou of the appointment of a durwan on 23rd January 19 and stop-gap arrangement regarding the work of Munshi on 22nd January 1960. I am unable to pla reliance on or attach any importance to the allegatio that the workers were not allowed to examine any witness or that the Company's witnesses were xamined in their presence on the date of domestic nquiry. The workers were given due notice of the nquiry. At the enquiry, most of the witnesses of he workers signed their own statement. They eclined to cross-examine the Company's witnesses. o, the principle of natural justice was not violated. t is urged on behalf of the workers that the Manage- ıent were continuously harassing the workers by ifferent methods. It is urged that some of the orkers were unjustly demoted and degraded and njustily transferred also. But I find no basis for ıese allegations. No case of wrongful demotion or egradation has been brought to my notice. There , of course, another hotel presumably belonging to ome of the partners of the present restaurant and a w of the workers might at times be transferred to ıat establishment. But there is no material to show ıat anybody was intended to be wronged by such ansfer, or that the transfer was made against the nsent and wishes of the workers concerned. Nor o I believe that these dismissals were actuated by ıe mala fide motive of victimisation on account of ıe union activities of the workers. The restaurant as no certified standing orders. Nevertheless, the isconduct complained of, if true, was serious enough merit dismissal. So, the dismissals in question nnot be said to be without justification. It is rged that Md. Amin was personally present when ıe enquiry was conducted and that his presence at ıe time might influence the statement of the itnesses examined. But I think mere presence of ld. Amin at the time cannot vitiate the enquiry so ng the workers got opportunity to cross-examine ıe Company's witnesses and also examine wit- esses in defence. One cannot expect a thorough- ess and exhaustivity of a law court in an enquiry efore a domestic tribunal by a lay man or member the Management. There is nothing to show that ıy objection was raised against Md. Amin's presence the enquiry. So, my considered opinion is that ıere is no sufficient reason for my interfering with ıe action of the Management and its order of ismissal.

The result is that the dismissed workers are not ntitled to any relief in this case. The issue is ecided accordingly.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Clive Mills Ltd., 43/1 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union, 1/1 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24. (Case No. VIII-487/60.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. C. Pal, M.A., LL.B., Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri P. P. Pathak, Trade Unionist.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

This is a reference made under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4638-I.R./IR/7L-32/59, dated the 31st of August 1960, for the determination of the following issues:—

(1) Whether the Company was justified in stopping the second shift with effect from the 14th April 1960? What relief, if any, the affected workmen are entitled to?

(2) Whether the Company was justified in locking out the workmen of the mill on and from 14th April 1960? What relief, if any, the workmen are entitled to for the period of stoppage from 14th April 1960 to 3rd June 1960?

The case made out in the written statement filed by the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union (hereinafter called the Union) is briefly this: With an ill motive of reducing the complement of the mill and bypassing the recommendations of the Special Committee on Jute, Messrs. Clive Mills Ltd. (hereinafter called the Company) was contemplating closure of the second shift. On 14th April 1960 the management of the Company suddenly stopped the working of the second shift and later on declared lock-out of the mill from the same day. By the closure of the second shift on and from 14th April 1960 all the workers who were wrongly termed and kept as badlis in violation of the terms and directions of the Jute Award, were thrown out. The huge number of such workers of the first shift also felt equally disturbed. A claim was put forward for immediate declaration of permanency of those workers. With a view to throwing the liability on the workers, the Company declared lock-out of the mill from the same date to put pressure on the workers for giving up their claim, on the false plea of strike by the workers. The Union tried its best to get the lock-out lifted by means of conciliation, but in vain as the Company would not act in any straight way. Ultimately, the Company's good sense prevailed and the lock-out ended on 3rd June 1960. In fact the stopping of the second shift and the lock-out of the mill from 14th April 1960 were illegal and unjustified. On these allegations the Union prays for an award declaring the closure of the second shift with effect from 14th April 1960 and lock-out of the mill from the same day as illegal and direct the Company to reinstate all the affected workers of the second shift and to compensate the whole body of workers for loss of income during the said period.

The Company, on the other hand, submits as follows in its own written statement: The general allegations made in the written statement of the Union are untrue. For some time past a band of workers, instigated by outside political parties, started creating troubles in the mill on very flimsy grounds. On 11th April 1960 a large number of workers of both the A and B shifts struck works without any notice. Failing to induce the strikers to resume their normal works, the management had no other alternative but to close the mill for the time being. Consequently by a notice, dated the 13th April 1960, the management closed the mill informing all concerned that the mill would remain closed till the strikers assured resumption of normal work. Next the management made various attempts to induce the strikers to resume their normal work. As a result, a representative group of workers approached the management for a settlement, which was arrived at on 23rd May 1960, the stipulation being that the mill would run in one shift until the Company would be in a position to run the double shift. By that no permanent workmen were at all affected. In pursuance of the agreement works were resumed for one shift with effect from 1st January 1960, and the Company's business did not warrant the running of the second shift. In the circumstances the Company was justified in not only stopping the second shift but also in declaring the lock-out its on the contrary, the workmen's strike was ille and it compelled the Company to take the afores actions. The agreement was effected with t National Union of Jute Workers, and it was r liked by the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union whi resisted the opening of the mill as per agreeme The mill, therefore, worked partially from 1st Ju 1960. Ultimately all the workers were prevail upon by the representatives of the workers who h approached the management for agreement. T case of the Union must, therefore, fail and the wo men concerned are not entitled to any relief.

These two issues are taken up together as th are intereconnected and as the consideration of t first issue depends on that of the second issue. On one witness has been examined for the Uni namely, Shri Bhabani Roy Choudhury (P.W. 1, Sec tary of the Union). On the other side, we have t depositions of O.P.W. 1 Shri Mongroo (a workma and O.P.W. 2 Shri Chandra Sekhar Bhadra (manag of the mill). Besides, the Union has put in a numb of correspondences (Exts. 1 to 1/0), and the Co pany also has produced some notices (Exts. A A 4, B and C), production chart and statem owing attendance of workers (Exts. A 5 a A 6), and Agreement, dated 23rd May 1960 (Ex D).

It is an admitted fact that the mill was locked o on and from 14th April 1960. Exhibit C is t notice, dated the 13th April 1960, by which t lock-out was announced. According to the manag (O.P.W. 2), this notice was given at about 10 p in the night of 13th April 1960 after all the worke left the mill. The notice states about an illeg strike by the employees from 11th April 1960, whic necessitated the closure of the mill. This is al implemented by evidence of O.P.W.'s 1 and 2. Th story of strike is denied by the Union. Its cas that this story about a stay-in-strike has been falsel introduced to conceal the real cause of the lock-ou lest the Company should have to make the Badl permanent in terms of the Special Jute Committee Report. It is, therefore, necessary to see whethe there was any good cause for the lock-out.

The manager says thus:

"On 11th April 1960 the first half of the work of A shift was done, and so in regard to the firs half of B shift. The workers of A shift cam again at 2 p.m. and began their works. But a about 2-40 p.m. they came to me and told me t confirm the badli workers immediately. I tol them to go on with their works, saying that would consider the matter and do the needfu thereafter. But they did not pay heed to m words and insisted on making the badlis permanen there and then. I expressed my inability saying that I would have to consult with the maliks Thereupon they stopped works and sat down idle This sitting strike was commenced by the badli workers of A shift—relating to the Spinning Department. Gradually all the badlis of other department and some permanent workers joined in the strike. I waited to see what the workers of B shift would do. The B shift workers also stopped works from 5 p.m.

At 5-30 p.m. on that date I hung up a notice on the notice board of the Factory ..... Still the workers did not do any works. I also tried to persuade them to resume works, but in vain.

On 12th April 1960 also the workers came to the factory and sat idle. On that date I again hung up a notice at about 9 a.m. ..... But yet no works were done.....

On 11th April 1960 I sent information of the occurrence to Shri Kundu, Labour Commissioner. I also did so on 12th April 1960. I also sent news to the Indian Jute Mills Association. On 13th April 1960 also the workers came and did similar performance as on 11th April 1960 and 12th April 1960, ... After 10 p.m. ..... I myself typed out a notice and hung it up ..... announcing that unless the workers gave assurance for the normal running of the factory works then the mills would be closed."

The three notices spoken of by the manager have been filed. But the first two notices find no mention whatever in the written statement of the Company. In paragraph 2(b) of that written statement only the last notice declaring lock-out has been mentioned. The manager's evidence as to giving the informations to the Labour Commissioner on 11th April 1960 and 12th April 1960 and to the Jute Mills Association gets no corroboration. So the story of the first two notices may well be considered as an improvement by way of after-thought. Attempt has been made to get corroboration by examining the said O.P.W. 1 Mongroo in regard to the alleged sit-down strike for three days. But this witness has cut a very sorry figure. He himself was a badli worker and was made permanent only 4 or 5 months before his deposition. Such a fellow can be made to say anything according to the liking of the Manager (O.P.W. 2). In fact, this witness's evidence is far from reliable being full of glaring discrepancies in various matters of importance. His testimony is entirely unreliable.

The value of the alleged agreement, dated 23rd May 1960 (Ext. D), would be discussed in due course. At present I would deal with it so far as the story of stay-in-strike is concerned. The short recital of the case mentioned therein states thus:

"A large number of workers of the spinning department went on strike from 11th April 1960 demanding permanent status to all budli spinners. The continuance of the strike for three days from 11th April 1960 to 13th April 1960 by the spinners, created a serious dislocation in the manufacturing process as a result of which the mill was closed down from 10 p.m. on 13th April 1960."

Obviously the above recital is suicidal to the workers. In ordinary course of events such confessions are not expected. The manager says that he had no hand in the matter of that recital which was the version of Shri Davaram Beri alone (purporting to be the President of the National Union of Jute Workers.) This gentleman has not been examined. It is not definitely known how and wherefrom he got the above facts. I have every reason to believe that the manager had brought about the agreement by collusion with Shri Beri. Though the manager says that the permanent workers also joined in the strike, it is belied even by the evidence of Mongroo, according to which all permanent workers were at work. Even in the said recital there is no specific mention of "sit-down strike" as such. From the extract of attendance roll (Ext. A/6), it appears that 2,696, 1,130 and 1,115 workers were present on 11th April 1960, 12th April 1960 and 13th April 1960, respectively. It is in evidence that the total strength of workers was about 2,900, of which 1,200 men were permanent and 1,700 badlis. So on 11th April 1960 many badli workers were present; and, if no badlis came on the following two days, majority of the permanent workers attended the mill. Those who were present must have got their wages. Not that they would be paid money for doing no work at all. The manager says thus. "From attendance registers I can say that some permanent workers got full wages from 11th April 1960 to 13th April 1960". To me he explained by saying thus: "Their names were recorded but they could not do work, we paid them full wages as we wished to see if they could induce others to do works." This explanation is totally unacceptable. If that was the Company's expectation even on 13th April 1960, why did it declare lock-out in the night of 13th April 1960? As regards badlis, they are not workmen unless actually employed for work. If badlis did not come to work on 12th April 1960 and 13th April 1960, they were not workmen on those two days, and the question of stay-in-strike by such men does not arise. The manager says that in the hazira bill there is no specific note that permanent workers "struck" works. He also says that in the event of a strike a report is to be submitted to the Factory Inspector. No such report is forthcoming. He has tried to evade this omission by saying that he sent only a copy of the notice only. There is nothing to corroborate this. I have already seen that the notices dated 11th April 1960 and 12th April 1960 are got-up things.

In view of the above, I find that the Company's allegation about strike has not been substantiated. On the contrary, there is reason to believe that the Company locked-out the mill with effect from 14th April 1960 with some ulterior motive. In a letter, dated 6th April 1960 (Ext. 1/J), the Union Secretary (P.W. 1) stated to the Labour Commissioner that the Company was conspiring closure of 'B' shift. The alleged harassing conduct of the Company was also mentioned in some other previous letters produced by him. I think the Union's apprehension was not absolutely baseless. According to the recommendations of the Special Committee on Jute Industry, published at pp. 248-251 of the West Bengal Labour Gazette, February 1961, a complement of three workers per loom shall be considered as the permanent cadre of the workers in the Industry as a whole. The manager says that in his mill there were 800 looms worked. But the permanent workers amounted to only 1,200. So, to implement the said recommendations, 1,200 more workers were to be taken into the permanent cadre out of the badli workers. Presumably the Company did not like this and, to circumvent this, had recourse to the locking out of the mill so that the workers, particularly the badlis, might be put to difficulties and might refrain from making their reasonable demand for permanency. In view of all that has been discussed above, I find that the lock-out of the mill from 14th April 1960 as regards both A and B shifts was quite unjustified.

There is some dispute as to the actual time of the reopening of the mill. According to the Company, the mill was reopened with effect from 1st June 1960 in terms of the said agreement (Ext. D) brought about by Shri Dayaram Beri. It is undisputed that the mill was reopened with the first or the A shift only, the other shift remaining still closed. The case of the Union is that Shri Beri had no authority to represent the cause of the employees and the whole matter of the agreement is a collusive affair. This contention of the Union cannot be slightly brushed aside. Scrutinised properly, such an agreement cannot be taken to be a proper settlement within the definition of section 2(p) of the Industrial Disputes Act, which stipulates thus:

"(p) 'settlement' means a settlement arrived at in the course of conciliation proceeding and includes a written agreement between the employer and workmen arrived at otherwise than in course of conciliation proceeding where such agreement has been signed by the parties thereto in such manner as may be prescribed and a copy thereof has been sent to the appropriate Government and the conciliation officer."

Even if it be taken that Shri Beri genuinely participated in the matter of the agreement, yet he represented only one group of workmen (belonging to the National Union of Jute Workers), not the other group (belonging to the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union). No copy of the agreement appears to have been sent to the Government or the conciliation officer. Rule 68(3) of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1958, enjoins that the parties to the settlement shall jointly send a copy thereof to the State Government in the Department of Labour and the Labour Commissioner and the Conciliation Officer concerned. But these provisions were violated as no copy of the agreement appears to have been sent to the Government or the Conciliation Officer. The manager says that they verbally told the Assistant Labour Commissioner, by submitting a copy of settlement, that the matter was settled and the closure of the mill was withdrawn. But there is no office record to show this. This is only a futile and untrue explanation. Had it been correct, the Assistant Labour Commissioner would not have written a letter on 2nd June 1960 to the Company to sent a representative for discussion on 3rd June 1960 (vide Ext. 1/N). At first the manager admitted having got such a letter; but next he denied it. He seems to have little regard for truth. In the circumstances, the agreement is not valid in the eye of law. From Ext. A/6 it appears that on 1st June 1960, 2nd June 1960 and 3rd June 1960 only 331, 445 and 485 workers, respectively, attended the mill. These numbers are too small. The number suddenly rose to 1,055 on 4th June 1960 and gradually increased thereafter. This shows that the discussion befo the Assistant Labour Commissioner on 3rd Ju 1960 had a salutory effect towards the improveme of the situation. There are certain terms in the sa agreement, which are highly derogatory to an against the interest of the workers. Such an agre ment, apart from being irregular and illegal, cann be taken to reflect true picture at all. It appea that as many as 27 badlis brought cases under se tion 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act against t same Company, and those applications failed preliminary objections, the matter of agreeme being incidentally dealt with (Ext. F). But th does not necessarily mean that the agreement w genuine and legal. In all the circumstances discus ed above, it may well be taken that the mill wa closed from 14th April 1960 for both the shifts an reopened practically from 4th June 1960 for on shift (with the exception of a few workers who migh have worked from 1st June 1960 to 3rd June 1960

Having found the lock-out to be unjustified, now come to the question of reliefs asked for. Th lock-out was withdrawn and the mill was reopene with only A shift working with the permanen employees, a few badlis having resumed worked late on. There is no question of payment of wages o compensations to the badlis for the period they di not work. Only the permanent workers are entitle to get their wages for the lock-out period from 14t April 1960 to 3rd June 1960; and there shall be n double payment to those workers (including badlis who worked from 1st June 1960 to 3rd June 1960 The prayer for reinstatement is out of the mark and stands rejected. When the second shift is reopened, the old workers, who are now out of employment, shall be given preference. The Company shall give wages to the employees for the said period of lock-out, as indicated above, within one month from the date of publication of this decision in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Award is passed accordingly.

17. (1) Any magistrate may issue a provisional warrant for the apprehension of a fugitive criminal from any commonwealth country to which this Chapter applies who is, or is suspected to be, in or on his way to India, on such information and under such circumstances as would, in his opinion, justify the issue of a warrant, if the offence of which the fugitive criminal is accused had been committed within his jurisdiction and such warrant may be executed accordingly.

(2) A magistrate issuing a provisional warrant shall forthwith send a report of the issue together with the information or a certified copy thereof to the Central Government, and the Central Government may, if it thinks fit, discharge the person apprehended under such warrant.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

At present, the law of extradition applicable to India is to be found scattered in the United Kingdom Extradition Acts, 1870 to 1932, the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881, and the Indian Extradition Act, 1903. The United Kingdom Extraditon Act, 1870, in its application to India, authorised the extradition of fugitive offenders between India and 'foreign States', a term which meant States to which that Act was made applicable by Her Britannic Majesty's Order in Council. The Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881, on the other hand, provided a method whereby extradition of fugitive offenders could be effected between the British dominions and possessions by a simplified form of procedure. The Indian Extradition Act, 1903, modified and supplemented the other laws by—

(a) prescribing the procedure for the surrender of fugitive criminals in the case of 'foreign States';

(b) providing a special machinery for the surrender of fugitive criminals in case of States other than 'foreign States'; and

(c) specifying the officers in India who may exercise the powers conferred by the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881.

2. The Indian Extradition Act, 1903, was not extended to Part B States in 1951 when the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951, was enacted as it was felt even then that this should be done by a separate law, after a proper examination of the position. The result is that the legal position relating to the surrender of fugitive criminals to 'foreign States' and commonwealth countries under the existing law from the erstwhile Part B States in somewhat doubtful. Further, the Supreme Court, in its judgment in the State of Madras vs. C. G. Menon reported in (1955) Supreme Court Reporter 280, has held that after India became a Republic, the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881 has ceased to apply to India. Moreover, the present law relating to extradition contains certain lacunae on questions such as concurrent requests for the surrender of a fugitive criminal from more than one State.

3. The purpose of this Bill is to remove all such anomalies and fill in the lacunae that exist at present in the law relating to extradition and enact a consolidated and amended law for the extradition of fugitive criminals to all foreign States and commonwealth countries.

4. The Notes on Clauses explain in detail the various provisions of the Bill.

JAWAHARLAL NEHRU.

NEW DELHI:

The 3rd August, 1961.

Notes on Clauses

Clause 2.—Sub-clause (a).—Definition of commonwealth country is more or less on the same lines as in the Citizenship Act, 1955. A few more countries which have gained independence have been added in the First Schedule.

Sub-clause (b).—Certain foreign laws like the French provides for the condemnation of an accused person par contumace but such condemnation is annulled if the accused person appears before the court, when his trial begins afresh. Such a person is correctly described as an accused person and not as a convicted person for the purposes of the extradition law. Sub-clause (a) of this clause is intended to clarify this position and follows similar definitions in the United Kingdom and Canadian Acts

Sub-clause (c).—The expression "extradition offence" is so defined as to mean, in relation to a foreign State being a treaty State any offence specified in the treaty with that State, in relation to a foreign State other than a treaty State or in relation to a commonwealth country to which Chapter III does not apply, an offence specified in the Second Schedule, and in relation to a commonwealth country to which Chapter III applies, an offence specified in the Third Schedule.

Sub-clause (d).—The definition of "extradition treaty" covers even pre-Independence treaties.

Clause 3.—This clause covers all States outside India including commonwealth countries to which Chapter III does not apply. The Act can become operative in relation to such State only on the issue of a notified order. Provision has been made in the clause whereby it may be possible to make this Act effective only in relation to certain parts of India. In regard to a treaty State, power has also been taken to render the application of the Act subject to such modifications, exceptions, conditions and qualifications as may be deemed expedient for implementing the treaty with that State.

Clause 4.—This clause contains the usual restrictions on surrender. The period of fifteen days specified in sub-clause (c) of this clause would enable a fugitive criminal to move the appropriate court for his release by filing a writ petition of habeas corpus.

Clause 5.—This clause prescribes the channel through which a requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal of a foreign State or a commonwealth country may be made to the Central Government.

Clause 6.—This clause empowers the Central Government to issue an order to a magistrate having jurisdiction to enqure into the offence in respect of which requisition has been received under clause 5. This clause follows sub-section (1) of section 3 of the Extradition Act, 1903.

Clauses 7 and 8.—These clauses prescribe the procedure to be followed by a magistrate when order is received by him under clause 6. These clauses more or less are based on sub-sections (2), (3), (4) and (6) of section 3 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903.

Clause 9.—This clause is based on sub-section (8) of section 3 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903.

Clause 10.—This clause more or less reproduces section 4 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903.

Clause 11.—This clause reproduces section 17 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903.

Clause 12.—This clause makes it clear that Chapter II will not apply in respect of fugitive criminals of a commonwealth country to which Chapter III applies.

Clause 13.—This clause makes it clear that Chapter III will apply only to such of the commonwealth countries as have entered into extradition arrangements with the Central Government. Sub-clause (2) of this clause further provides that every such application shall be by notified order. The Central Government is further empowered to apply the provisions of Chapter III and other Chapters in relation to any such commonwealth country subject to such modifications, exceptions, conditions and qualifications as it may think fit to specify for the purposes implementing the arrangement.

Clause 14.—This clause makes it clear that a fugitive criminal of a commonwealth country to which Chapter III is made applicable shall be liable to be apprehended and returned in the manner provided in the said Chapter.

Clause 16.—This clause follows section 13 of the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881.

Clause 17.—Sub-clause (1) of this clause follows section 16 of the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881. Sub-clause (2) requires a magistrate issuing a provisional warrant under sub-clause (1) to report the issue of such warrant to the Central Government.

Clauses 18 and 19.—Clause 18 reproduces to a certain extent the provisions of section 14 of the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881 but clause 19 makes it clear that the power of returning the fugitive criminal to the commonwealth country concerned will lie with the Central Government.

Clause 20.—This clause prescribes the channel for requisition for the surrender of a person accused or convicted of an extradition offence committed in India and who is or is suspected to be in any foreign State or a commonwealth country to which Chapter III does not apply.

Clause 22.—This clause is based on section 19 of the United Kingdom Extradition Act, 1870.

Clause 23.—This clause states the liability of a fugitive criminal in express terms even with regard to offences committed before the commencement of the Act. The clause corresponds to a certain extent section 16 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903.

Clause 24.—This clause follows section 20 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903.

Clause 25.—This clause is self-explanatory.

Clause 26.—This clause follows sub-section (4) of section 10 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903.

Clause 27.—This clause follows section 13 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903.

Clause 28.—This clause follows section 3(9) and section 14 of the Indian Extradition Act, 1903.

Clause 30.—This clause follows section 10 of the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881 with this difference that power under that section is exercisable by a court whereas the power under this clause is exercisable by the Central Government.

Clause 31.—This clause makes a provision to meet a contingency when the surrender of a fugitive criminal has been requested by more than one State simultaneously. The clause is based mainly on the fact that there are quite a number of offences which consist of a series of penal transaction each one of which may be completed or originated in one or more States separately. Under this clause the Central Government would decide to which State or country a fugitive criminal may be surrendered after taking into consideration all the circumstances of the case, namely, the respective dates on which the requisitions were received, the relative gravity of the offences alleged and the like.

Clauses 32 and 33.—The clauses are self-explanatory.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Proceedings for extradition of fugitive criminals to foreign States and commonwealth countries under the Bill would involve arrest of the fugitive criminal, an enquiry by a Magistrate and in some cases the removal of the fugitive criminal and his delivery to the foreign State or commonwealth country. Such proceedings will also involve the detention of the fugitive criminal in police/jail custody, and the State shall have to involve expenditure during such detention/custody. In so far as the Union territories are concerned, such expenditure will be met from the Consolidated Fund of India. It is not possible to estimate the amount of expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India as that amount will depend on the number of requests for extradition that may be received in any given period.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 34 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make rules by notification in the Official Gazette to carry out the purposes of the Act. The matters in respect of which such rules may be made are specified therein.

2. Most of those matters are of a routine character. They inter alia relate to the form in which a requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal may be made, the form in which a warrant for the apprehension of any person in a commonwealth country to which Chapter III applies may be made, the manner in which any warrant may be endorsed or authenticated, the seizure and disposition of any property which is the subject of any extradition offence, and the form and manner in which or the channel through which a magistrate may be required to make his report to the Central Government.

3. Under clause 3(1), power is conferred on the Central Government to apply by notified order the provisions of the Act (other than Chapter III), to such foreign State or to such commonwealth country to which the provisions of Chapter III do not apply, as may be specified in that order. Under clause 3(2), however power is reserved to the Central Government to restrict such application to fugitive criminals found in such part of India as may be specified in the order. As regards a treaty State, the Central Government has been empowered to make the application of the Act subject to such modifications and exceptions as may be deemed expedient for implementing the treaty with the State. The question to which countries or States the Act should be made applicable is a little difficult and complicated one. Reciprocity and other considerations such as terms of a treaty may have to be weighed. It is not possible to specify all such considerations in the Act. The Central Government has therefore been vested with the necessary power in this regard.

4. Under clause 13, power has been reserved to the Central Government to apply by notified order the provisions of Chapter III to such commonwealth countries as may enter into extradition arrangement with the Government of India. Power is also reserved to the Central Government to make the application of Chapter III and of Chapters I, IV and V subject to such modification, exceptions, conditions and qualifications as may be specified in the order for the purpose of implementing the arrangement. It is not possible to visualise at this stage what sort of extradition arrangement will be entered into by different commonwealth countries and consequently it is difficult to specify in the Act the modifications, exceptions, conditions and qualifications subject to which the Act may be made applicable.

5. Having regard to the circumstances under which powers under clauses 3 and 13 will be exercised by the Central Government, the powers delegated to it are of a normal character.

Secretary.

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri S. K. Bhattacherjee and Shri A. K. Sarkar, Officials of the Association of Manufacturers, Commercial and Traders.

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak with Shri C. L. Ganguly, Advocate.

By order No. 6674-I.R./IR/10L-120/59, dated Calcutta, the 2nd December 1959, and subsequent corrigendum No. 356-I.R./IR/10L-120/59, dated Calcutta, the 30th January 1960, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bombay Safe and Steel Works Private Ltd. and their workmen represented by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union to the Second Labour Court for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the discharge of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Shri Kalipada Das.

(2) Shri Deo Dutta Goshai.

(3) Shri Bash Deo Sharma.

(4) Shri Deonath Mistri.

(5) Shri Bikrama Sharma.

(6) Shri Govinda.

Six workmen have been mentioned in the order of reference. At the time of hearing the representative of the Union has stated before me that the Union will not contest the case of Shri Bashdeo Sharma, one of the above six workmen. So I hold that there is no longer any industrial dispute about him.

As to the other five workmen, the case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows:—

On 13th March 1954 there was an agreement between the Union and the Company in presence of the Conciliation Officer to the effect that the above five workmen who were then under suspension or discharge would be reinstated by the Company provided they were acquitted in the criminal case pending against them then. Eventually all of them were either discharged or acquitted in the criminal case. Thereafter they and the Union made repeated representations to the Company to honour the agreement, but to no effect. So the Union prays that the Company may be directed to reinstate the above five workmen.

The Company in its written statement has raised a preliminary objection that this is not an industrial dispute on the ground that the workmen employed by the Company do not espouse the cause of the workmen mentioned in the order of reference. As to the merits of the case the Company has stated in its written statement that in pursuance of the agreement the Company asked the workmen in question to join their work and to receive their payments. The Company waited for them for a long time, but they did not join their duties in the Company, as they were engaged in some other concerns. So the Company contends that it has not violated the agreement and that as the workmen in question defaulted in attending their duties in the Company they are not entitled to any relief. At the time of argument Shri S. K. Bhattacharjee, appearing for the Company, has urged that the present reference is not maintainable as the dispute mentioned in the order of reference was settled by the agreement mentioned above. So the following points emerge for decision:—

(1) Whether this is not an industrial dispute on the ground that the workmen employed in the Company have not espoused the cause of the workmen mentioned in the order of reference;

(2) whether the order of reference is bad in l on the ground that the dispute mention in it has already settled by an agreement;

(3) whether the Company has violated t agreement.

Findings

Point No. 1.—Iron and Steel Workmen's Uni has raised the present dispute on behalf of the wo men in question. The Company has filed affidavit sworn by a workman of the Compa supported by a petition signed by a number of wo men to the effect that the signatories of that petiti do not support the cause of the workmen question. P.W. 1 Shri Haralal Dutta, Gene Secretary of the Union, says that most of t signatories of the petition are new recruits and th most of the old employees of the Company a members of the Union. The Company h not been able to show anything disbelieve this evidence of P.W. 1. On th contrary, O.P.W. 1 Shri Sarju Prosad Choubey wh filed the affidavit mentioned above admits th about 3 4ths of the workmen of the Company becam members of the Union in 1954. O.P.W. 2 Shri Kam Mistry also says that some employees of th Company were members of the Union. O.P.W. Shri Kamdeo Sharma does not know how man employees of the Company were members of th Union in 1953 or 1954. It must be remembere that the dispute originally arose in 1954. Whatev be the exact situation today, it is clear from th evidence that a number of employees of th Company were members of the Union in 1954. S this Union has clearly the locus standi to espous the cause of the workmen mentioned in the orde of reference. The espousal of their cause by suc a Union clearly transforms the dispute into a industrial dispute. So I hold that this is a industrial dispute.

Point No. 2.—It is the case of both sides that settlement was arrived at in course of conciliation proceedings. The Union contends that th Company did not abide by the settlement, whereas the Company refutes that contention. But both sides have admitted that there was a settlement. A settlement in course of conciliation proceedings or an award settles an industrial dispute which is the subject-matter of the settlement or the award. There are a number of cases in which it has been held that an industrial dispute which has been disposed of by an award cannot be agitated again in a subsequent reference. There are also a few cases in which it has been held that a settlement in course of conciliation proceedings also disposes of the dispute and a subsequent reference for adjudication of the same dispute is bad in law. It has been held by the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, in the case of Burmah Shell and other Oil Companies (reported at page 381 of XII F.J.R.) that a matter which is covered by a settlement by conciliation cannot be made the subject-matter of an industrial dispute so long as the settlement is in force. It has been held by the Punjab High Court in the case of Amin Chand Payarelal (reported at page 604 of L.L.J. 1958, volume I) that during the continuance of a settlement arrived at under section 12(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, a reference of industrial dispute covered by such settlement must be held to invalid. There has been no decision of any higher Court contrary to the above decisions. The reason for such decisions is obvious. The main purpose of the Industrial Disputes Act is to investigate into disputes between the management and workmen and to bring out an amicable settlement between them. It is only when such a settlement cannot be arrived at that the Government intervenes and by compulsory arbitration brings about adjudication of the disputes between the parties. There is nothing improper in the parties agreeing to get their disputes decided with the good offices of a Labour Officer instead of getting the disputes referred for adjudication by a Tribunal. In the present case the Union and the Management at the intervention of the Conciliation Officer arrived at a settlement of the dispute about the suspension discharge of the workmen in question. The Union has not been able to show that the settlement is no longer in force. On the contrary it is the case of the Union that the settlement is still in force. So the present reference about a dispute which has been settled by the agreement mentioned above is not maintainable.

Point No. 3.—The Company has stated that it issued letters (Ext. D series) to the workmen in question asking them to resume their duties. But they did not do so. The Company has also adduced evidence to the effect that they have been employed elsewhere soon after their discharge by the Company. But the Company has failed to produce any satisfactory evidence that the workmen received those letters (Ext. D series) or that those letters were posted at all. The evidence of the Company as to their being employed elsewhere is also not trustworthy. P.W. 1, on the other hand, has stated that soon after the final disposal of the criminal case, the Union sent letters Ext. 1(d) to 1(g) under the signatures of the workmen in question to the Company asking it to reinstate them. P.W. 1 has also stated that the Company refused to accept them. The envelopes containing those letters contain the remark "refused". O.P.W. 4 Shri Asit Ranjan Banerji, an Executive Officer of the Company, says that he does not know whether those letters were sent to the Company or whether the Company refused them. This lends credence to the contention of the Union that soon after the final disposal of the criminal case the workmen in question sent letters to the Company and falsifies the contention of the Company that it wrote letters to them asking them to resume their duties. So I hold that the Company has violated the agreement.

But in view of my finding on point No. 2, this violation does not create an industrial dispute. Actually in the facts of the case the issue whether the discharge of the workmen is justified is really misleading. The question of the discharge of the workmen was raised in 1957 and irrespective of the justification of the discharge, the question was settled by the agreement. So after the agreement there was no longer any question as to the justification of the discharge, and that position remains still now. Hence there can no longer be any issue as to the justification of the discharge of the workmen mentioned in the order of reference.

Hence I hold the issue mentioned in the order of reference does not call for any adjudication.

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.
